It's the mellowness of BOOTH'S Dry Gin that makes it so much to be desired in cocktails. Such mellowness comes only from treble distillation and maturing in sherry casks and BOOTH'S DRY is the only GIN which receives such care in its making. It is not to be wondered at that the 1st prize Cocktail in the International Cocktail Competition was made with Booth's Dry.

The King and the Conference: Some Conference Yarns: Duke of Connaught's Sixty-five Years' Soldiering: An Anthony Trollope Manuscript: The Prince's New Plane: Sir L. Halsey and Masonry

(Special Air-Mail Service)

HISTORIC PARTY AT WINDSOR

LONDON, June 22.

The King and Queen received on the lawns of Windsor Castle on Saturday 2,000 guests at their garden party to the delegates to the World Economic Conference.

It was an historic scene on the East Lawn as the King and Queen, with the Duke and Duchess of York, the Princess Royal and the Earl of Harewood, the Duke of Gloucester and Prince George, came down to mingle with their guests from sixty-six nations of the world.

It was the first garden party to be held at Windsor Castle for twenty years. Under the scarlet and gold Indian Durbar tent the King and Queen received personally all the chief Conference delegates.

Each was presented to the King and Queen by the respective Ambassador or Minister. The British Empire delegates were introduced by the High Commissioners for the Dominions.

M. Litvinoff, the Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, who was wearing morning clothes, attended with M. Maisky, the Soviet Ambassador.

Five red and white marquees were erected on the lawns. Cabinet Ministers and their wives, foreign delegates and private guests, stood discussing world problems as they drank tea and ate strawberries and cream.

The guests were given special permission to wear lounge suits if they wished but nearly everyone came in correct morning clothes. Many of the women wore heavy fur wraps over their summer dresses as a protection against the keen east wind.

There were amazing scenes in Windsor as the guests arrived, and again as they left. For over an hour a double queue of cars stretched for more than half a mile from the Castle gates, and large crowds watched their slow progress.

FROM PANAMA

Some very good stories are coming out of the Economic Conference. A few are connected with the efforts of people to convince the police or attendants on the doors that they wish to get in to see "a friend" among the delegates or the journalists attending the meetings.

One of these concerns a very enterprising commercial traveller, who was anxious to get into touch with the representatives of a South American republic for business purposes.

To achieve his end he announced himself to the doorkeeper as the delegate from Panama.

The doorkeeper laughed at the ruse. "You'll have to think of a better one than that, mister," was his reply. "Everybody knows Panama is a canal, not a country."

A HOME FROM HOME

Another story going the rounds of the Conference relates to the booking of accommodation for the delegates. On behalf of the Poles inquiries were made at one of the big hotels and the question was asked what other Conference parties would be staying there.

The manager enumerated a long list. There would be the Dutch, the Belgians, the Spaniards, and many other charming people, including the Germans. "Ah! We fear that would not do," said the Polish official. "You see, relations between the Poles and the Germans are a little strained just now."

"But m'sieu, that need not distress you," assured the manager. "There would be a corridor between."

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

The "London Gazette" of sixty-five years ago contained the following announcement:

"War Office, Pall Mall, June 19. Royal Engineers.—His Royal Highness Prince Arthur William Patrick Albert, K.G., from the Royal Military Academy, to be Lieut."

As the announcement shows, the Duke of Connaught celebrates today the completion of his 65th year since he entered the Army. From his first commission he has passed through every rank. From the Engineers he transferred to the Royal Artillery, and was then gazetted to the Rifle Brigade. After active service in Canada in the suppression of the Fenian raid he was gazetted to the Hussars, and later he saw stern fighting with the Guards at Tel-el-Kebir.

It is more than thirty years since he was promoted Field Marshal.

TROLLOPE'S CANDOUR

It is another proof of the rise of public interest in Anthony Trollope that the manuscript of his "Autobiography" is to find a final resting-place in the British Museum.

The book has been variously described as "a masterpiece of candour and self-knowledge," and as a "queer, bleak text-book of the mechanics and economics of novel-writting." What is more, it extinguished Trollope's good name for more than a-quarter of a century.

It was a shock to Victorians to learn that one of their favourite authors had worked steadily by the clock for three hours every day, turning out his allotted quantity, and to see the table in which he had set out that his total earnings from his pen were £68,939 17s 5d.

THE ETONIAN REVIEW

It is not often that an "ephemeral" school magazine can entice such a distinguished list of contributors as has the "Etonian Review"—the apostolic successor of last year's "Change"—which will be on sale at Lord's this year.

Sir Francis Peek is again one of the editors. Their net was widely cast, and results in a bag including articles from the Earl of Athlone, the Earl of Birkenhead, Earl Howe, the Dean of St. Paul's, Mr. W. E. D. Allen, Father Ronald Knox, Lord Clydesdale, the Earl of Clarendon, Gen. Sir Hubert Gough, Mr. Harry Graham, Mr. Randolph Churchill, and Earl Winterton.

All the articles come from Old Etonians except two. One of these is an amusing criticism of public schools by Mr. Harold Nicolson.

COMPETITION IN COTTON TRADE

Japan's Efficiency Stressed

LANCASHIRE MUST REORGANISE

LONDON, July 4.

DURING the course of last night's debate on the Board of Trade estimates, Major C. R. Attlee, winding up for the Labour Party told the House of Commons that the success of the Japanese in the cotton trade was due to their extremely efficient organisation as much as to low wages. Lancashire should reorganise her industry on similar lines.

The usual criticisms regarding the abnormally low wages, conditions of labour and hours operating in Japan, were heard, the Conservative member for Stockport, Mr. S. S. Hammersley, declaring that there was not a market in the world which did not feel the menace of the extraordinarily cheap competition.

Mr. Hammersley denied the figures quoted by Dr. E. L. Burgin, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, showing that Japan's exports for the first four months of 1933 had declined 6 per cent. in value as compared with 1932, United Kingdom 9 per cent. France, 14 per cent., Germany, 25 per cent., and the United States, 27 per cent.

The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman, dealing with the question of Japanese competition said that the reply of the Japanese Government to the suggestions of the Board of Trade, had been received, and a special committee, representing Lancashire, had been appointed for the contemplated discussions.

He hoped that a reply would shortly be sent to Tokio.—Reuter.

THE LANTERN

They said of her "She carries, where ever she goes, a lantern in her hand that glows and glows." "A lantern in her hand." A lovely phrase! Cannot you see her merry household ways making the home and family circle bright A lantern shining like a star at night

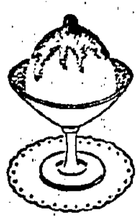
A lantern swinging from a busy hand whose light enables her to understand the gloom that has enwrapped her husband's soul. And understanding, she can make him whole. So, through the blackness of his mind's despair, he sees her with a lantern, standing there, blesses the guidance of their constant rays—a lantern in her hand—a lovely phrase.

No wonder she can walk through gloomy skies with joyous step and tender, mirth filled eyes, finding some cause for laughter, fresh and sweet; never acknowledging the thought defeat; e'en reaping beauty in an arid land—for she is never without a lantern in her hand.

From the "Daily Sketch."

A FEW WAYS OF SERVING CHEESE

Buy a package of Kraft Cheese from your dealer. Mash this with a fork and mix with 2 tablespoonful melted butter. Now slice your bread either white or brown very thin and spread the cheese and buttered mixture. Roll and fasten with a tooth-pick and place in a moderate oven to brown. Served hot these are excellent, particulary for an afternoon at bridge.



FROZEN FRUIT

Canned fresh fruits, Beulahs have such a variety are always delicious especially when the days are warm. They are rich in vitamins too, so our advice to the housewife is to serve them often, the children will derive so much good if fed on them. We will gladly furnish our readers with a new recipe each week.

Obtain a can of Strawberries or any other berries and if not sweet enough you may add more sugar. Get ½ pint whipping cream from the Dairy Farm and allow to stand in the Ice Chest for a few hours before whipping. Whip this until stiff and add to the fruit, mix well and put into freezing trays for about 8 hours. This portion will serve about 8 people.

This not only makes a dainty dessert but a very wholesome one.

Place them on a sheet of paper on a tin and put into the oven until golden brown. Peel the bananas and split into halves lengthwise, then scoop out a little ridge down the centre. Cut the ginger into tiny pieces and place them along the centre hollow. Heat a little jam and, if it is stiff, thin down with a very small quantity of water, then rub through a sieve. Spread the edges of the halved bananas with this, then coat with the prepared almonds. Whisk the cream until it stiffens, sweeten and flavour to taste. Put this into an icing bag and force a line of cream down the centre of each halved banana. Decorate with pieces of ginger.

FOR THAT WEEK END PICNIC

Telephone the Dairy Farm for a batch of sandwiches. Well made and a variety, all wrapped in waxed paper. It really is much cheaper in the end and saves so much trouble. They will pack an Ice Cream brick or two to take along.

Don't forget to take your camera along. If you use a roll of Selo Films remember you are sure of success.

SWEETBREADS WITH ASPARAGUS

Prepare the sweetbreads in the usual way. Parboil 5 minutes, then cut into slices crosswise. Roll them in crumbs, egg and crumbs and saute in clarified butter. Arrange these small cutlets on a hot serving dish in a circle. Dispose cooked fresh asparagus in centre, dot over with butter. Set in warm oven until butter is melted. Garnish with water cress.

Melt the butter, add the onion and garlic, halved and peeled, also the sieved turnip. Cook them for a few minutes, without letting them brown. Stir in the stock and the milk. Bring to the boil and season to taste. Remove the onion and garlic before serving.

Sardine Corsican Salad.

1 Tin of sardines; 1 or 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; lettuce; ½ cup chopped cucumber; 1 tomato; minced parsley; capers or an onion. Peel and chop the tomato. Mix it with the mayonnaise and cucumber. THE GARDEN

After wet weather is the best time for removing weeds asthe earth is then soft and they can be dragged out completely, without any fear of half the root being left behind to develop once more. One can make a tour of the garden, armed with a kneeling pad and a weeding instrument, or, Chinese fashion, one can uproot weeds with a long handled hoe. The former, though more tiring, is the more satisfactory method.

CASSEROLE OF LAMB

Cut a breast or a loin of mutton into neat pieces and put into a casserole. Almost cover with water and add two sliced carrots and turnips, a sliced onion or a few spring onions, a shredded lettuce leaf, and a sprig of mint, season with salt and pepper. Bring to the boil and simmer gently for two hours, adding a can of green peas, half an hour before it is ready, and at the same time thickening the gravy slightly with flour or fine oatmeal.

in pieces. Cook 4 minutes, then add 2 tablespoons flour, stir until well blended, add 2 cups cream gradually, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached. Place in double boiler, add 3 cups boiled chicken cut in cubes, cover, let steam until heated through. Cream ¼ cup butter, add 3 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 3 teaspoons lemon juice and ½ teaspoon paprika. Add to chicken mixture and stir until eggs are set. Toast rounds of bread on one side, spread with butter and place a portion of chicken on each round or serve in patty shells.

CHOOSE YOUR CORSET FIRST

Forty is, or should be, a happy age for a woman. She is neither too old nor too young. She can look as attractive as ever she did in her life if she is willing to take a little trouble.

The first consideration is the figure. As we grow older the muscles of the body tend to sag and we gradually fall into wrong ways of standing and moving.

The question of correct posture is of tremendous importance, and much can be done with the proper corsets.

A really good corset does not aim merely to fit the figure as it is, but to remodel it into the shape it should be—a very different thing.

Good corsets are never an extravagance. They are the foundation upon which the success of all one's clothes depend.

A woman's first care should be her figure, try and keep it trim, and you will, if you are properly corseted.

BE KIND TO YOUR HAIR

Beautiful hair is not dependent on age. Quite elderly women have hair that is still very much their "crowning glory."

Daily brushing and massage are both helpful. The brush should always be scrupulously clean, and it is a good plan to slip it into a little bag before putting it in the drawer.

Tonics and shampoos must be chosen with care, according to whether the hair is dry, greasy, dark, fair, or grey.

During the summer months, the sun is apt to dry the hair and make it brittle, and the application of olive oil the night before washing is a good plan.

Hair must be much more carefully groomed as one grows older. The careless coiffure of youth is very seldom attractive when one gets to the age of forty. It is worth while to go to a good hairdresser, and let him study the shape of the face and suggest a suitable style.

Give your hair daily attention, and make a beauty of it!

Veal trimmings; ¼ pint milk, ¼ pint white stock; ½ oz. flour; ½ oz. butter; 1 dessertspoon onion juice; salt and pepper; 6 mushrooms; butter. Remove the skin from the veal and put the meat through the mincer. Melt the butter add the flour and when well blended stir in the milk and stock and bring all to the boil. Add the onion juice and seasoning to taste, then mix in the veal and one mushroom prepared, cleaned and chopped. Turn the mixture into a small casserole. If it seems too thick, thin it down slightly. Simmer it gently for from ½ to one hour, or until tender. Serve the creamed veal on a hot dish and garnish it with the remainder of the mushrooms, which should have been peeled, washed and halved, and cooked in butter. Sufficient for three persons.

Spaghetti Pudding.

1½ oz. Spaghetti; 1 egg; 1 pint milk; 2 dessertspoons sugar; flavouring. Break the spaghetti into short lengths and wash it. Put the milk into the saucepan top of a double oiler and bring to the boil. Add the spaghetti and cook gently until tender, stirring occasionally. Draw aside and cool slightly, then beat up the egg and add with the sugar and flavouring to taste. Turn into a pie dish and bake gently for about half an hour or until set, being careful not to let it boil. Serve hot or cold. A macaroni or vermecelli pudding may be made in the same way. Sufficient or 3 or 4 persons.

White Soup.

1½ lb. Potatoes; 2½ pints white stock; 3 onions; seasoning; 1 small piece of celery, 1 pint of milk; 1½ oz. rice. Thinly peel the potatoes, wash them and cut into thick slices. Peel and slice the onions. Wash and cut up the celery. Put all these vegetables into a saucepan with the stock and cook gently until soft. Rub soup through a sieve. Put it back into the saucepan, season well and add the milk. Wash the rice and add to the soup and boil the soup slowly until the rice is soft. Pour into a hot tureen.

Sweetbread and Pea Salad.

Boil sweetbreads in the usual way. Chill and cut in ½ inch cubes. There should be 2 cups. Mix lightly with 2 cups celery, cut in small pieces, and 1 cup cold boiled green peas. Moisten with mayonnaise and serve in tomato cups arranged in nests of lettuce heart leaves.

Apple and Sultana Pie.

1½ lb. Cooking apples; 3 oz. sugar; 3 cloves; 2 oz. sultanas; ½ gill water; ½ lb. short pastry; sugar for dredging. Roll out half the pastry into a round and line a sandwich tin with it. Peel, core and slice the apples and heap them in the lined tin, mixing them with the sultana, sugar and cloves. Sprinkle the water over. Moisten the edge of the pastry. Roll out the rest of the pastry and cover the pie, pressing the edges together neatly. Brush the top with water and dredge it thickly with sugar. Bake the pie in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes. To tell if the fruit is soft, insert a skewer between the two layers of pastry.

AN EXCELLENT FRUIT SALAD

Fruit salads are easily and quickly made, if one keeps a supply of canned fruits. (Beulahs are a good line) with an apple or two, a few sliced bananas, and an orange added to the canned fruit, makes a healthy and attractive dessert, served with whipped cream. Garnish with Maraschino cherries or chopped nuts.

Slice the bananas to which add some lemon juice, this prevents discolouration then slice your apples and perhaps an orange or pears if you happen to have any in the house then open up a can of Beulah berries, or any other fruit—mix thoroughly and put into Ice Box to chill. Have your cream whipped and also allowed to chill—pour over your salad, garnishing with either chopped nuts or cherries. Serve with dainty Frou-Frous.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSE-WIFE

If you are looking for a new hat, there are some dandy looking models at Lane, Crawford's. Prices ranging from $4.00 upwards.

Another profitable place to shop is "Eve" and also Gordons. A great assortment of dresses and shoes for those who care for an extra pair.

To our readers who wish to look their best at that party that may be coming off very shortly, try "Rolande Sarrault" who will fit you with a foundation garment. Perfect fit guaranteed, to make that new formal look just right. You will not only look, but feel better when properly fitted. A badly fitted corset is like a cheap pair of shoes, and can be the cause of more discomfort.

Your coiffure too must be considered, let the "Red Rose Beauty" (Continued at foot of next column) parlor do the needful. Their prices are reasonable and the workmanship guaranteed. This is centrally situated, the methods are the very latest. They have just installed a new "Fredericks" hair waving machine and can turn out a permanent in three hours. Prices from $15.00 to $20.00.

For the lady golfer. Noticed some fine golf shoes at Lane Crawfords marked so low that one could almost afford two pairs. When in town drop in and see them, it would be worth your while.

COOKERY NOOK

One of the simplest ways of "doing up" cold chicken is simply to cut it into small pieces, to put them in a butter fireproof dish within a wall of mashed potato, cover them with Bechamel Sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese, and brown in the oven.

SMILE AWHILE

The new assistant in the grocers was ordering in readiness for the holiday trade. "Do we need any more fresh eggs" he asked his senior.

"No replied the latter" we've enough fresh eggs to last us for six months."

GIVES HIM HA-HA

Lowell Sherman, the director of "She Done Him Wrong," hired a pick-pocket to come on the sound stage and pilfer the pockets of the actors. He pas disguised as an extra, created quite a panic, and when the police were about to be called, Sherman laughed and had him return the valuables. But the joke was on him, after the extra had left, Sherman found his watch was missing. He is the ex-husband of Helene Costello, sister of Dolores Costello now Mrs. John Barrymore.

Some facts about Baby's milk that every mother should know

THE purity of the dairy milk used in Baby's diet is of vital importance—but consistent quality is important too. Dairy milk varies in composition according to the district in which it is produced and milk that varies is not good for Baby's digestion. Devonshire milk is richest in the nourishing elements that Baby needs.

That is why "Ambrosia" is such a blessing. It is Devonshire milk exclusively, purified and dried in Devonshire itself as soon as it comes from the cows, by a unique process that retains the important vitamins. The quality of "Ambrosia" never varies and it is many times purer and more digestible than any liquid milk you can buy. For these reasons "Ambrosia" is extensively used and recommended by Hospitals, Clinics and Doctors. It is the ideal Milk Food for Expectant Mothers, Nursing Mothers and Infant feeding.

MANSION TO BE MONASTERY

TRANSFORMATION OF FAMOUS SUSSEX HOME

Paddock Hurst, a mansion of the Cowdray family, which looks over the Downs at Balcombe (Sussex), will soon be tenanted by the black-habited monks of the English Benedictine order.

The mansion will be reconstructed as a school similar to Downside, and in the extensive grounds the Order of St. Benedict is to build an abbey.

I walked over the grounds recently, wrote a correspondent and there was an eerie stillness about the place.

The large coach-house was locked. Inside were eight Victorian phaetons in condition equal to new, the varnish shining like mirrors. One barouche of black and yellow was of the Regency period. On every wheel were new solid rubber tyres. In the stables, with their huge turret and chiming clock, I saw two heavy farm horses. The greenhouses were full of tomatoes, peaches, and tropical plants.

One could readily visualise the monks singing their liturgy along the tiled winter garden, with its fine statuary, or in the bower-bedded Dutch gardens which overlook an 18-hole golf course.

"THE PAINTED WOMAN"

FILM OF SINGAPORE AND SOUTH SEAS

With its breath-taking and dramatic story painted against the colorful background of Singapore and the South Seas, "The Painted Woman," which features Spencer Tracy and Peggy Shannon in the principal roles, should prove a great draw for screen fans at its opening to-day at the King's Theatre.

Plenty of action and suspense have been woven into this Fox Films offering with its frankly human romance between a man and a woman, neither of whom has been better than necessary.

Opening in the Straits Settlements where the girl is looked upon as a dubious and notorious character, the plot takes her through a savage battle with a too-amorous sailor, a headlong flight to a remote island in the company of her current admirer and her temporary exile, until a schooner can return from Australia.

On the island, however, she encounters an adventurous pearl fisher who not only falls in love with her, but proposes marriage. Fearing the return of the other man she refuses, but later accepts on hearing an erroneous report of his death. When the other man does come back, however, things move to a climax that is startling in its intensity and unexpectedness, and that provides a whirlwind ending to the picture.

Along with its glimpses of pearl-fishing, a thrilling under water fight with a giant devil-fish and its splendid tropical scenes, the story is distinctly out of the ordinary.

Tracy's role is that of the pearler, with Miss Shannon portraying the girl. William(Stage) Boyd as the schooner captain and Irving Pichel as a scheming South Seas lawyer play the other important roles with Raul Roulien, Herbert Mundin, Laska Winter, Murray Kinnell, Paul Porcasi and Chrispin Martin also in the cast. John Blystone directed the production and Leon Gordon wrote the continuity and dialing from Guy Bolton's screen play which is based on an original story by A. C. Kennedy.

CHINESE TROUPE AT KING'S

SHORT SEASON STARTS TO-DAY.

Chinese Jugglers and Acrobats on the stage at the King's Theatre combine with the picture to make, the show an excellent entertainment. Chin Loo and his company of eighteen clever Artists present a smooth and polished act. Fresh from a world tour, Chin Loo, a handsome Chinese, heads the company and offers bright bits of comedy patter, adding all that is needed to make this an outstanding entertainment. Chin Loo speaks several languages and makes the most of each. The troupe includes some of China greatest acrobats, tumblers, jugglers and bar performers. Their appearance here is being met with great interest by the amusement loving public. The troupe will appear from to-day at the 5.10, 7.15 and 9.30 p.m. performances during week days and at 2.30, 5.10, 7.15 and 9.30 p.m. on Saturday the 8th and Sunday the 9th.

"I just don't want to be bothered," is the way he explains his strange obsession.

Rogers employs a secretary who occupies an office in a down-town Los Angeles building and she makes all of his engagements and attends to most of his personal affairs.

"Too Busy To Work," prepared for the screen by Philip Klein and Barry Conners, is based on Ben Ames Williams' widely read story, "Judilo." The cast supporting Rogers includes Marian Niron, who enacts the leading feminine role; Dick Powell, a recent sensation in "Blessed Event"; Frederick Burton, Douglas Cosgrive, Constantine Romanoff and Jack O'Hara.

The picture was directed by John G. Blystone, dean of Fox Films directors, who directed "So This Is London," one of the Rogers' earlier successes.

"TOO BUSY TO WORK"

WILL ROGERS FILM FOR KING'S

Will Rogers, frequently described as the best known personality in America, the intimate of kings and queens and the companion of captains of industry, comes to the King's Theatre next Sunday in the role of a tramp.

The picture is "Too Busy To Work," his most recent Fox production. It tells the story of a penniless vagabond, who searches the country far and wide in the hope of finding his wife and daughter and the man who stole them while he was fighting for his country in the World War.

Eventually, he stumbles upon his daughter and the "other man" and learns that his wife has long since been dead. The action he takes is, perhaps, not what the ordinary man would do under similar circumstances.

In the greater number of his screen portrayals, Rogers has enacted the role of a father. In real life he is the ideal type of parent, bestowing every comfort on his three children, Will, Jr., Mary and Jimmy, the youngest of the trio—everything except a telephone.

Rogers refuses to have a telephone in his home, though he has every other requirement of a modern residence.

The celebrated wit and humorist is as afraid of a telephone as he is of evening clothes. There is a 'phone in his dressing room, a pretentious bungalow at the studio, but he seldom answers its ring.

THE SCREEN'S PRIZE "DRUNK"

CHARLES RUGGLES IN 70,000 WITNESSES

The most inebriated man on the screen.

That's the title that Charlie Ruggles, featured with Phillips Holmes, Dorothy Jordan and Johnny Mack Brown in "70,000 Witnesses" football mystery drama, commencing to-day at the Queen's Theatre is slowly and surely acquiring for himself.

It describes him only on the screen, however. In private life he's a very sober fellow.

Ever since he crashed to movie fame with his portrayal of a drunken reporter in "Gentlemen of the Press," Ruggles has been cast as drunk, with few exceptions. One of them was in "Love Me Tonight," latest Maurice Chevalier picture, in which he is featured.

He's a drunken reporter again in "70,000 Witnesses." This time he's sent to a college town to broadcast over the radio a play-by-play description of a big football game. He gets drunk on the train en route to the game, and doesn't sober up for the remainder of the picture.

The film is the story of the mysterious murder of a stellar half-back as he dashes for a touchdown. Seventy thousand spectators in the jammed stadium see him collapse and die. But not one knows how or by whom the crime was committed.

David Landau, a detective, and Holmes, room mate of the victim, a role played by Brown, ultimately solve the mystery. Miss Jordan is cast as Holmes' sweetheart.

"ZOO IN BUDAPEST"

PREVIEW OF FILM BOOKED FOR THE KING'S

Those who were privileged to attend the preview of the above named picture were afforded a treat. It was most entertaining, and tense with several exciting scenes. It is a picture with a moral too, for it teaches youngsters to be kind to animals. Young Gene Raymond as the care-taker of the Zoo will not allow any one to ill-treat the animals. In fact he is in trouble for having stolen a lady's fur, not that he wanted it, but he thinks it wrong for people to kill any animal for its fur. He is threatened with dismissal if he repeats the offence, but we see him do the very same thing again, when he hides behind the bushes and carefully removes another expensive neck piece from a lady in the park. His motive is not theft, as he burn the article. There is a girl in the story also, and Loretta Young is the one who furnishes the romance. It so happens that a child is lost in the Zoo and in opening a door releases a tiger, this is when the excitement begins, every tiger and lion in the place breaking away from their cages. Zarri rescues the child, and in doing so loses a leg. Everything ends well however, he marries the girl "Eve" and they live happy ever after.

It is entertaining and most exciting; the younsters will enjoy seeing the animals, and there are any number of them. There are tigers and lions, monkeys and some wonderfully trained elephants. Something every member of the family will enjoy. Do not miss it when it comes to the "King's Theatre."

A NEW YORK MELODRAMA

MAE WEST IN THE BOWERY SALOONS

"She Done Him Wrong," Mae West's first starring movie, is coming to the Queen's Theatre on Sunday.

Miss West, most spectacular figure on the present-day stage, has won fame not only as an actress, but as a playwright, singer, novelist and whatnot. She made her movie debut in a character role in "Night After Night," and "She Done Him Wrong," her second film, she appears in the starring role. She wrote the story, as well as acted it.

"She Done Him Wrong" is a lusty, roaring melodrama of the Bowery—of its saloons and politicians, its honky-tonks and its women. Miss West is cast as "Lady Lou," a singer with a deadly effect on unwary males, who exchanges her favour for diamonds. So great is her popularity that her collection of gems is enough to ransom a half-dozen kings.

Her affair with Cary Grant, ostensibly a mission-worker in the neighbourhood, leads to a startling, dramatic climax, which brings Grant into her arms without the customary tribute in diamonds.

Miss West sings three songs during the course of the picture "Frankie and Johnnie," the popular old ballad, and two new ones written for her by Ralph Rainger.

THE FIGHT FOR ORDERED GOVERNMENT IN HONG KONG

9.—Editor of Daily Press sent to Prison

The case in which we were defendant for a libel alleged to have been committed in our issue of 20th February, came off yesterday. We were tried for exciting H.M. subjects to hatred and contempt of Her Government. As this comes under the denomination of a seditious libel, justification would not avail us, inasmuch as the truth or falsehood of the allegations, has nothing to do with it. Consequently we could put in no other plea but not guilty.

Notwithstanding our Counsel most distinctly proved, as it appeared to us, that such was the law, and that consequently the Crown could not adduce evidence of the falsehood of the allegations, inasmuch as we could not bring forward evidence of their veracity, still the Attorney-General was allowed this unfair privilege.

The indictment notwithstanding, the judge would and did try us for a false, slanderous and malicious libel against Sir John Bowring. The Attorney-General never hinted at sedition, hatred or contempt. For these we were indicted—for libelling Sir John Bowring we were tried, convicted and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and then a fine of £100—or further imprisonment until the sum is paid.

The delivery of the sentence was most intimidatory towards the Press, and evidently meant so to be. We do not think in the paragraph complained of that we exceeded the due bounds assigned to the liberty of the Press. We simply imputed favouritism and no more. In two of the charges we made, if favouritism was not admitted, it was never attempted to be disproved; and in the others, we only repeated what had already been stated by our contemporaries. —Hong Kong, April 20, 1858.

It having been hinted to us that according to Prison Regulations, all written communications should come under the surveillance of the jail authorities, we feel debarred from inflicting our readers with any remarks upon the libel case, inasmuch as having hitherto enjoyed the privilege of exemption from the rule referred to, we should be making a poor return for the kindness voluntarily extended towards us, if we were to discuss a subject we can have but one opinion upon. In fact, the Daily Press is gagged to avoid it being stopped altogether.—Hong Kong, April 22, 1858.

LORD GORELL

Lord Gorell is, I believe, to be the new editor of the "Cornhill Magazine," in succession to Dr. Leonard Huxley. He has for some years been a partner in the house of John Murray, which publishes the famous old monthly.

Young Mr. John Gray Murray, who joined up at Albemarle-street when he left Oxford, will assist Lord Gorell in the editorship.

"DRAGON" DELIVERED AND TESTED

The Prince of Wales's new D.H. "Dragon" aeroplane, the purchase of which was announced at the time his Royal Highness bought the Vickers "Viastra," has now been delivered.

This brings the number of the Prince's aircraft to six. The latest 'plane has been tested by Flt. Lt. E. H. Fielden, the Prince's personal pilot. Like the "Viastra," it is a twin-engined aeroplane, but is a biplane.

The fuselage and wings are finished in scarlet and blue, the Brigade of Guards' colours. The cabin colour scheme is red and fawn.

It is instrumentally equipped for night-flying and for "blind" flying in clouds. The cabin walls are packed with soundproof padding.

In the cabin panelling five different kinds of wood, all grown in the British Empire, are use. packings of chamois leather and sound deadening blankets, and insulated windows of double thickness make the cabin remarkably quiet. Smoking in it is permitted.

At the rear of the cabin there is a comparment storing writing materials, a typewriter, and a gramophone. There is an electric heater, a kettle, and a small refrigerator.

ROYAL ARCH MASONIC APPOINTMENT

The Duke of Connaught, the First Grand Principal of England, has appointed Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey to be Grand Superintendent for Herfordshire, and he will be installed by the Pro First Grand Principal, Lord Ampthill, on Oct. 13.

The position of Grand Superintendent of Hertfordshire has been vacant since the death of Mr. C. E. Keyser in 1929, and the Province has also been without a Prov. Grand Second Principal (in charge) since the death of Mr. W. Hamilton Underhill at the end of last year.

Hertfordshire has been a Royal Arch Province since 1811, when Col. Andrew Dennis D'Kelly was installed Grand Superintendent. He was followed by William Stuart in 1844, Sir Frederick Halsey, Admi. Halsey's father, in 1875, and Charles Edward Keyser in 1924.

Admi. Halsey will thus be following his father as the head of both the Craft and Royal Arch Degree. There are now twenty-two Royal Arch Chapters in the Province.

TRADE MARK DISPUTE

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT OF "POMPEIA" MARK

Before Mr. Schofield yesterday, an interesting legal point in regard to trade-marks arose in a summons by Messrs. Loxley and Co., agents for L. T. Piver's Pompeia hair lotion, against, Leung Sam Kee a Chinese dealer.

Although registration of the Pompeia trade-mark was refused in Hong Kong because in the view of the Registrar it conflicted with another European mark already on the register, Mr. O.E.C. Marton contended that it came under the general protection extended to British Colonies of the Home Act. He pointed out that the mark was registered in France and England between which two countries there had been a mutual regulation of trade-marks.

Mr. F. X. D'Almada, Snr, for the defendant, disagreed. He said that a trademark must be registered in respect of particular goods or class of goods. Local registration was absent from the case.

Mr. Schofield up-held Mr. Marton's submission regarding the applicability of the Home Act and Order-in-Council.

The case was then adjourned for evidence to be heard.

"WELL DONE!"

MAGISTRATE PRAISE DISTRICT WATCHMEN

"Those District Watchman are extraordinarily good," said Mr. Wynne Jones yesterday at the close of a pick-pocket case.

It was shown in evidence that a boy of twelve was enticed by a man of twenty on a pick-pocketing venture in the city. The man was sentenced to six months and the youngster, who had had a previous conviction for house-breaking, received eight strokes with the cane.

JUDGMENT FOR CHINESE FIRM

Claim Against Keller Kern & Co.

STAY OF EXECUTION SOUGHT

The Chief Justice yesterday gave judgment with cost for the Kwong Yuen firm who claimed $8,200 from Messrs. Keller Kern & Co., for damages for non-delivery of a quantity of serge.

Mr. R. C. H. Lim, instructed by Mr. Peter Sin, appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, junior, instructed by Messrs. Wilkinson & Grist, was for the defendants.

In giving judgment, His Lordship said:—

This is an action by buyers under a contract for the sale of goods. They sue for damages for non delivery.

For protection against the claim, the sellers rely upon a term in the contract, which is as follows:—"Clause 10. If any claim is made, sellers reserve the right to take over the cargo for their own account and no compensation can be claimed by buyers."

I will assume that the sellers have here purported to act under this clause.

The question remains whether in the circumstances here arising they can be taking this step escape liability in damages for non delivery.

In my view the above clause only operates when goods have been delivered to, and retained by, the buyer. If then the buyer should not be content with his bargain and should make a claim against the seller, the seller may under this clause elect to retake the goods and to cancel the contract. The words "to take over the cargo" for their own account" must imply that the sellers have lost possession of the goods sold and propose to regain it.

In the present case there has been no delivery. It has been assumed in argument that the sellers tendered goods under the contract, which the buyers rejected. But even that is not so. It appears clearly from the correspondence that these goods were never tendered in fulfilment of the contract. They were offered in lieu of fulfilment. At the outset of these negotiations the defendants frankly and honestly admitted the mistake which had been made.

The interpretation of clause 10 which I here adopt seems to me to be evident from its own language, but I would add that it would require very explicit terms to embody the meaning for which the defendants have here contended. If the clause is to avail them here such a construction would amount to this, namely, that in any circumstances whatsoever the sellers could on a claim by the buyers arising escape liability for non performance of their contract by a mere declaration that it was their intention to retain the goods. The clause, in my opinion, does not say this and does not mean this.

Furthermore, my construction is supported by the Chinese version in the contract of clause 10, which appears to speak of "re-taking the goods."

A submission has been made for the defendants that damages to be awarded, if any, should be merely nominal. This submission is based upon precedents where goods sold have been delivered under a contract and have been returned to the seller. But in the present case there has been no delivery.

In my view this claim succeeds. I therefore enter judgment for the plaintiffs for the damages claimed, with costs.

Mr. D'Almada: Will your Lordship grant a stay of execution pending an appeal?

The Chief Justice (to Mr. Lim): Have you anything to say about that?

Mr. Lim: Payment should be made into Court for security.

His Lordship (to Mr. D'Almada): How long would you want?

Mr. D'Almada: Three weeks, my Lord. It is a question of having to cable to Europe.

His Lordship accordingly granted a stay of three weeks. Payment was to be made into Court within four days.

AUSTRALIAN TRIBAL VENDETTA

ABORIGINES' VOW AGAINST JAPANESE

Brisbane (Queensland).—Serious trouble with the natives of Northern Australia is feared following a decision of the aborigines of Arnhem Land (the coastal area) to swear a vendetta against all Japanese.

The aborigines have taken this vow because of assaults on their "holy girls" by Japanese who fish in North Australian waters.

It is asserted that the fishermen have ill-treated and terrorised aborigines on Melville Island and parts of Bathurst Island.

Similar reports come from other areas outside the influence of the missions.

Now a meeting of tribal leaders has vowed vengeance.

The aborigines threaten to murder any Japanese who dares to enter Arnhem Land.

A police party is already preparing to search for the murderers of two Japanese who were killed for interfering with a holy girl before the present vendetta was hinted at.

It is feared that they will meet with hostility from the natives, who are determind to enforce the tribal law against outrages on girls.

The company consists of 14 women dancers, 36 men dancers and players of the gamelan. They will visit various towns in the U.S. beginning at Washington. Prior to this Mr. Sukawati is going to Holland and British India.

STEEL BARS IN WRONG POSITION

CURIOUS ADMISSION AT HAPPY VALLEY VERANDAH INQUEST

"INTERESTING THEORY" OF ARCHITECT'S ASSISTANT

The Yuk Sau Street Inquiry went on for the fourth afternoon yesterday and indications are that it will take several more hearings before being brought to a conclusion.

Mr. Tong, an employee in the firm of A. J. Lane, contractor, was subjected to very lengthy questioning and he was asked several technical questions in relation to the building of the house and the laying of the cement concrete.

HOW THE BUILDING WAS DONE

Mr. F. C. Jenkin, K. C., instructed by Messrs. Woo and Nash, appeared for the contractors who built the house, Mr. M. K. Lo represented the owner of the house and Mr. H. J. Armstrong appeared for Mr. A. J. Lane, the architect.

The Jury were as follows:—Messrs. R. A. Rogers (foreman), Li Koon Chun and Mr. A. C. Little.

Cross-examining Mr. Tong, Mr. Armstrong asked:—

On what terms are you employed by Mr. Lane.—On a commission basis.

When you were first introduced to the owner, was he anxious to build in another locality?—Yes.

Where was this land that he wanted to buy?—At the junction of Shan Kwong Road and Village Road.

Was it the property that Mr. Gockchin eventually bought?—No, Mr. Gockchin also failed to acquire the land.

What were your duties, actually, in connection with the inspection of property while No. 15 was being built?—I had to look after everything.

In connection with these steel bars, what actually did you have to do?—To see that they were fixed in position in accordance with the plans and also that they were of the proper size.

And the proper quality?—Yes.

Was it part of your duties to take measurements with a foot rule to see if they were the right distances apart?—I always carry my foot rule with me.

The Balcony Concrete.

This concluded Mr. Armstrong's questioning. Mr. Jenkin then asked witness if the pouring in of the concrete was a very important piece of work and witness replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Jenkin: And you were sent from the office as special representative to oversee that?—No.

Was a representative for the office sent?—No.

Did anybody from your office oversee the pouring in of the concrete?—No, but when the concrete was first laid I did go down and watched for about twenty minutes.

There is a man called Chan Yin in your office, is there not?—Yes.

And he was present during the operation?—No.

Did he go down there at all?—Yes, but he had to watch the concrete as soon as it was laid.

He was detailed to specially look after the concrete?—His duty was to water the concrete as soon as it was laid.

His duty including the supervising of the pouring in of the concrete?—No.

The pouring in of the concrete in the balcony area was of prime importance, was it not?—The concrete work all round was important.

Oh, come, come, the pouring in of the concrete in the balcony was of more importance than the rest?—Yes.

Do you suggest that during these operations nobody was sent down to supervise the work?—Nobody went down. This concluded Mr. Jenkin's cross-examination.

The Usual Procedure.

Mr. Lo then asked: During your experience of building you have completed many houses?—So far as overseeing work is concerned.

Did the building of the house in Yuk Sau Street follow the usual procedure?—Yes.

Was there anything unusual in the relation between owner architect and contractor?—Yes, because after I had completed the plans he went out to look for a suitable contractor.

Anything else?—I have never heard of any owner's foreman taking no notice of the architect.

Do you suggest that it is an unheard of thing for a building owner to look after the tenders?—It is quite a usual thing.

Do you agree with me that under the contract signed between the owner, architect and contractor the architect has complete control of the work?—Yes.

Do you agree that the plans and specification formed part of the agreement?—Yes.

Under the agreement do you agree that it is for the contractor to build according to your plans?—Yes.

Do you agree that without your consent the contractor cannot deviate from the plan?—I wouldn't know of any deviation if I did not see it.

Oh certainly, but I am speaking of the contractors duty.—Yes.

Is it or is it not usual for a Chinese owner to have his own overseer?—It is usual.

Is the primary object of having overseers to see to the materials so that he wouldn't be swindled by the contractors?—There are other objects.

What are the other objects?—To see that the work is carried out satisfactorily.

And if an owner employs a man who is not competent, then he defeats his own object, but does that relieve your responsibility at all or the contractor's?—No, it would not lessen our responsibility to any extent.

I put it to you that you were paid 5% on the contract price and that this 5% includes your fee for superintending the erection of these houses.—That 5% was paid to me for preparing the plans and for services rendered a few years previously for the purchase of the land.

Do you agree that this 5% includes the usual architects charges?—Yes

To your knowledge how many times did Mr. Lane go to the site?—Forty to fifty times.

Bars in Wrong Position.

Is it a fact that in canti-lever construction the upper edge is in tansion and the lower edge in compression?—Yes.

Do you agree that if steel bars were put in the bottom it would make the bottom unsafe?—Yes.

What is your theory as to how the steel bars got there?—It is not unusual for the owner and his foreman to visit the place after 5 p.m. and being interested in the concrete he would naturally be anxious to see the steel work and after the frame work was completed the owner might have removed the chocks, thinking that the steel work should have been in the bottom in the same way as in the floor.

And this very interesting theory of yours, did you tell the police about that?—I don't think I did, I am still puzzling over the question as this has never happened before.

When did you form this opinion?—About a week ago. Where did you think the wooden chocks had got to?—They must have been thrown away.

What do you think the contractor did when he came to put in the concrete and found the chocks missing?—They would have no way of finding out.

Since the collapse, have you been down to the premises?—Yes.

In particular did you see the balcony in the first floor of No. 13 which has been opened up as far as it could be?—I only saw part of it.

Did you receive notice from Messrs. Clark and Lu informing you that the balcony would be opened up and inviting you to be present?—No.

I put it to you that if a contractor puts in concrete properly there is no room for accident. That is so.

Hearing was adjourned until Monday afternoon.

S'HAI-HONG KONG AIR SERVICE

Bi-Weekly Trips to be Arranged

U.S. AND BRITISH COMPANIES NEGOTIATING

An important event in the history of aviation in Hong Kong took place yesterday morning with the arrival at Kai Tack from Shanghai of a big amphibian machine, Sikorsky, S38 type belonging to the Pacific-American Airways Company, who have acquired foreign rights in the China National Aviation Company.

The trip was made via Wenchow, Foochow, Amoy, Swatow and Canton and was in the nature of a survey flight. It is hoped to take the machine up to Canton to-day and from there to make the return flight to Shanghai by the same route.

The return flight will also be of a survey and experimental nature, but in the very near future, possibly a week or a fortnight, it is hoped to have a bi-weekly service between here and Shanghai.

The route over which the planes expect to fly, is by no means an easy one and exhaustive information is needed before a regular mail service can be instituted.

The Sikorsky Amphibians are very large machines, built to carry eight passengers in addition to a crew of three, a pilot, a mechanic and a wireless operator, and a certain amount of mail cargo. They have a cruising speed of 120 miles per hour.

The passengers in the machine arriving yesterday were as follows: Mr. H. M. Bixby, vice-president of the Pacific American Line, Mr. P. Y. Wong, business manager of the China National Aviation Company, Mr. W. L. Bond, operation manager, of the same Company, Mr. W. S. Grooch, operations manager of the Pacific American Line, Mr. W. Ehmer, flight mechanic and radio operator, Mr. P. C. Groeger, engineer and Mr. R. H. Gast, pilot.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS INTERESTED

We understand that Imperial Airways are negotiating with the Pacific American Line with a view to collating with them an extension of the London-Singapore service to Hong Kong, thus bringing Shanghai within direct air communication with London.

ASSAULT ON TWO AMAHS

EUROPEAN'S ABSURD BEHAVIOUR

Mr. W. C. Loynes of 8 Lai Kwan Avenue, Tai Hang Road was fined $10 on each of two Summonses brought against him by two amahs for assault.

Defendant did not appear when his case was called and the evidence of the amahs was taken in his absence.

Defendant appeared in Court in the afternoon and appologised to the Magistrate and said he had been very sick. He said the noise of the amahs had been most provoking. He did not get the summonses while in hospital, because his wife, a Chinese lady, could not read, and therefore did not send them. He had had many years experience in Court work in Singapore. He saw Mr. da Silva yesterday, and was informed that the solicitor would be appearing for him.

The Magistrate described defendant's behaviour as absurd. He had given the Court a lot of trouble and should have known better.

Mr. Horace Lo appeared for the complainants.

AUSTRALIA'S RACIAL PROBLEM

SEVERE CODE OF PENALTIES

Following the exposures of certain aspects of the Australian colour problem, the Commonwealth Government is to give cash bonuses to white men who marry half-caste women.

This effort to breed out the black strain from the children of marriages between aborigines and whites has caused serious conflict among the authorities.

To keep the races apart the

Commonwealth Government recently decreed that for offences between white men and aboriginal girls the former would be fined £100 and sent to jail for three months.

Authorities in Conflict.

For girls the punishment would be three months in jail.

In acting on the report of the medical officer for North Australia (Mr. Cecil Cook) the Canberra authorities are in direct conflict with Mr. Bleakley, Queensland's special protector of aborigines and the leading authority on the subject.

In an interview with a Daily Herald correspondent Mr. Bleakley definitely opposed the inter-marriage of whites and half-castes.

Even admitting possibilities of breeding out, he said, there were alarming throw-backs, and Queensland statistics showed that 90 per cent of such marriages were failures and the progeny unsuitable to build up a moral, virile race necessary to a young country.

The only solution of the half-caste problem, he said, was the encouragement of white women to settle in the tropics, and having married men only supervising aboriginal employment.

Home Secretary Hanlon said that he strongly disapproved the Commonwealth action, and said Queensland would continue not to grant permission for white and black marriages, except in unusual circumstances.

HAINAN NEWS LETTER

ISLAND FEELS THE ECONOMIC SLUMP

RUSSIAN PIECE GOODS MAKING BIG PROGRESS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

KACHEK, June 28.

The weather continued unusually dry and hot until the 27th of this month. Farmers were unable to plant the rice seedbeds for the fall harvest as early as usual. There has been a noticeable lack of the north-west thunderstorms which usually bring torrential rains, and instead there have been small showers from the southeast. Out of their long observation of weather conditions the Chinese here have a saying that if the festival of Sprouting Seeds is hot and dry there will be no heavy rains, but only night showers and hence poor crops. However, there has been a steady downpour from the north-west for the past twenty-four hours, with prospects of more, and so there is now plenty of water in the fields, and also relief from the heat.

One good effect of the dry weather of the past two years is the increasing attention to the making of wells. For years the wells on the American Presbyterian Mission compound, Kachek, have been wondered at and admired, and have furnished water for nearby villagers in times of drought. Now various people are sinking wells on their own land and bricking them up, thus assuring a more reliable and far more sanitary water supply. Wells here need be only about fifteen or twenty feet deep to reach water but thirty or forty feet down will strike rock and an unfailing supply. The difficulty in digging a well so deep is of course the caving in of the earth and few wells are more than twenty feet deep.

A Visit to Piece Goods Market.

A recent visit to market shops in search of cloth revealed several interesting things. There is a good supply of English made cotton cloth on sale, plain white muslin and white shirtings with coloured stripes. These goods and of good quality, full width, and selling at twenty-six to twenty-eight cents a Chinese foot (sixty to sixty-eight cents a yard). These striped patterns are not however favourites for women's and children's wear, and here the Russian goods with gayer colours and flowered patterns are coming into great demand. A year or so ago only a few bolts of Russian cloth were seen on sale, rather in the nature of a tentative tryout. Now every big shop and almost all the small merchants who spread their wares along the street on market days have their supplies of Russian cloth—narrower than the English cloth by seven or eight inches and only half the price. Russia seems to be replacing Japan as the source of flowered cotton goods, and replacing her very rapidly.

Ice and Turtles—By Car.

Kachek market is no longer entirely without ice. An enterprising small merchant, also owner of a car making regular trips to Hoihow, is bringing down ice packed in wooden cases. It sells for fifteen cents a pound, and apparently is used principally by the vendors of sweet drinks.

Recently one of the motor cars carried a unique load. It was coming from the sea-shore and was loaded with immense sea turtles, easily three feet long and two feet across their heavy shells. One or two were tied on the running boards, several others were stacked inside, and all on their way to market, presumably to Hoihow.

The Trade in Pythons.

One of the special commodities handled in Kachek market is pythons. The live snakes are brought up from the south of the island in bamboo baskets, and are either killed here for local consumption or sold alive to Hoihow buyers. In the market here python meat sells for five coppers an ounce, the usual price of pork, and it is considered especially cooling food for hot weather. Python skins are stretched out and staked down to dry, and sold usually to Hoihow merchants. A very good skin measuring twelve feet from nose to beginning of the tail and the tail itself about a foot more was purchased in the market a few days ago for $9.80 local currency. Python skins when properly tanned in Haiphong or elsewhere make very handsome bags, dressing cases or shoes, but the Chinese of course buy them for medicinal purposes.

Trade Dull in Kachek.

Times are very dull in Kachek market. When causes are sought, three answers are given. First and foremost is the lack of money from Singapore and other south sea regions. It is estimated that in the years before rubber dropped out of the picture between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 a year came back to the regions tributary to Kachek market from the "Hylams" in the south, and was practically all expended locally. Now only three tenths of that amount is coming in, and many men are coming back to Hainan from the south practically empty-handed. Second, there is the lack of money in these local regions themselves, due to the disturbed conditions of the last few years, to heavy taxes, and the fact that the exports going out from here do not yield very heavy money returns—dried betelnut and cardamom seed, bamboo and rattan work, and live pigs to Hoihow, salt fish from the south and coarse paper and some dry-goods to the mountainous interior. The third reason is an interesting development of motor traffic. Kachek market was formerly the gateway to Kheng-dong, Loh-hoe, Vang-neng and Leng-tui districts. Kachek merchants went to Hoihow and laid in large stocks of goods, selling to the merchants and traders of the four districts above mentioned, who came to Kachek to make their purchases. Now, with motor roads and cars, the merchants even from Leng-tui can get to Kachek in one day and to Hoihow in a few hours the next morning, so why not go directly to Hoihow and purchase for themselves? The added expense of the trip to Hoihow is more than covered by the saving in eliminating a middleman's profit. Kachek merchants feel the force of the argument deeply, and all told, business is very slack.

Popular Official Leaves.

Mr. Wong Ho Tan, for many years the postmaster in Kachek, is being transferred to the Vun-sio City office, and Mr. Ngou Hi Soang, present postmaster in Vun-sio, is coming to Kachek. While recognizing the value of changing incumbents in the potal system at times, Kachek very much regrets to lose Mr. Wong, who has given faithful and efficient service here.

In the Schools.

In the schools graduating exercises are the order of the day. The Lower Market Primary School and the McCormick School have classes finishing the sixth year, and the Thirteenth Provincial Middle School is graduating classes both from junior and senior middle school. There is one girl in the senior middle school class, the first girl to complete the course in this school. There is much protest against the comprehensive examinations to be given here for the first time this year, and principal, faculty and students are much concerned over the outcome. While this of course is a government school still difference in textbooks and in emphases of content may make it difficult to adjust comprehensive examination questions fairly until after several years of experiment—and this first class to take the test is naturally anxious.

THE SOUL OF CHINA

One of our Canton contemporaries sees in the loss of Manchuria and Jehol a further stage in the disintegration of China. This process is traced during the last ninety years, and it is somewhat surprising to recall that in times past even Burmah and Siam acknowledged the sway of the Celestial Empire. Indo-China, Outer Mongolia, Korea, Formosa and the various leased territories are enumerated, as the principal losses, while Britain is credited with designs upon Tibet. Possibly Mr. Winston Churchill, sees himself waving "a banner with a strange device," as he climbs the Himalayan heights, but such an expedition would be a one-man show. Britain has enough on her hands already and, she, like China has surrendered, as well as annexed, a good many millions of square miles during the last few centuries. These far off places may have acknowledged the suzerainty of the Son of Heaven, but they had no real parts in the traditional culture of the Chinese race. Manchuria and Jehol, with their millions of Chinese people are in different cases. The four provinces will gravitate back to China, if China can offer peace, security and prosperity.

Dr. Lim Boon Keng, the distinguished President of Amoy University, gave a more profound analysis both of the strength and the weakness of China, in his recent lecture at Singapore. He sees the real unifying force in the traditional filial piety and ancestor worship of China, and argues that the sense of kinship, which distinguishes both the Chinese and the Jewish nations, has been the greatest factor in their survival, when all other peoples of the ancient world have passed into oblivion. Equally binding is the classical culture, expressed through the common language of the ideograph.

"China cannot be destroyed by force of arms, but the Chinese people can commit suicide. They have been doing so slowly. When they take to opium that is one way. If they take to alcohol it will be a quicker way but if they lose their heads by forgetting that they have a soul that will be the quickest way.

In those two things, the written language and the family system, grouping round its ancestral worship, he sees the soul of China. Dr. Lim is emphatic that if the language is romanised, and the ideograph abandoned then the diversity of provincial dialects will prevail and the common language of China be lost. He thinks, that the Chinese nation will go on living, but he is not sure: he fears the forces of disintegrating modernism. The loss of the outlying provinces he does not view with dismay. China held Siam and Burmah rather as England held Java, and, further back, large tracts of France. It is Chinese culture, the essential customs and manners, that he calls upon his countrymen to preserve.

Time does not stand still. Dr. Lim would not wish a return to the days of bound feet for women, of dark and narrow streets, in the cities, of magic-medicine and crude superstition. Nations can lie dormant for centuries and then awake, but once roused they must either go forward or perish. Mr. H. G. Wells in his "Outline of History" describes how in ancient days Babylon, for centuries a little muddy town, suddenly became the great metropolis of the world. We have seen London change before our eyes. How many times has Rome—Rome of the Republic, of the Caesars, of the Renaissance, of Cavour and again of Mussolini—shed her outward skin like a serpent and appeared, in renewed splendour. But always something of the old remains. There is continuity of soul. We see to-day Canton changing itself, and all China is changing. There is danger in the process, danger to that unity of which the Chinese people are so proud, even in the midst of their civil wars. But that danger is like the peril of childbirth, an inevitable part of the process. Can ancestor worship survive? The family sense was strong in Victorian England, but now, as the modern phrase puts it, "relations are a bore." Do Overseas Chinese still feel the call of the Homeland? How often are they disappointed with the Home village or township, with its instability and backwardness. If China is to keep her soul she must become a place that is Homeland to the Chinese of Penang, of New York or of the Pacific Islands, as France and Britain are homes to their emigrants. That does not imply mere luxury, wealth and ostentation, but qualities of the kind that draw men and women of Devonshire or the Wealden villages, back to the quiet beauty of those places, alike from the luxury of New York, and the tropic indolence of Samoa.

CANTON-S'HAI AIR-MAIL

Expected To Start In A Few Days

'PLANE NOW MAKING TEST FLIGHT

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, July 5.

The amphibian airplane of the China National Aviation Corporation, which took off from Shanghai on Monday morning, arrived at Swatow yesterday afternoon and may reach here this afternoon or to-morrow.

Flying on a test trip, the machine is surveying the China Coast route and the landing stations en route, and this necessarily takes longer time than usual. Preparations have been made for the 'plane to land on the river within the Socony installation here.

Interviewed by this correspondent, Mr. James Wang, radio engineer of the aviation company, stated to-day that owing to atmospheric disturbances he has been unable to get in touch with the airplane. He said that the manager of the company, Mr. P. Y. Wang, and six others, including several foreign aviation experts, are passengers on the 'plane in its first trial trip to Canton.

Regular passenger and air mail service is scheduled to begin on July 7, but in view of the delay in arrival of the airplane, the first regular commercial flight will be delayed for one or two days.

JAPANESE RAILWAYS ARE BUSY

20,000 IDLE WAGONS AGAIN IN USE

According to the Mainichi, the State railway business is gradually picking up. Since the beginning of the present fiscal year there has been an increase of from Y.120,000 to Y.150,000 a day in railway revenue, and the total revenue up to the 24th instant shows an increase of Y.10,000,000 as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year. This is the best result recorded since 1929.

In consequence, most of the over 20,000 goods vans which have long been lying idle, have recently been put into service again. On the 25th instant, idle vans totalled only 2,300.

THE Chinese Eastern Railway chaos is again the subject of accusation and counter-charge.

CHINA'S NAVAL NEEDS

More Warships Necessary

CADETS TO RECEIVE BETTER INSTRUCTION

CANTON, July 5.

THE Chinese navy is interested mostly in national defense and therefore needs more ocean-going war craft, stated Admiral Chang Chi Ying, commandant of the Canton Naval Squadron. He also said that the cadets in the Whampoa Naval Academy will be given instruction in Marine Engineering and Shipbuilding.

The Admiral denied that the three Chinese cruisers Haichi, Haihsin and Shaoho are coming to Canton.

Advanced courses in political science and philosophy are offered by the Yentang Political Military Academy. The school expects to enroll 400 new cadets and application for admission will be closed on August 1.

There will be two sections in political training. Candidates for the intermediate section must be graduates from a recognized high school, and candidates for the advance section must be well educated and have previous study of the science of Government. They will be examined on August 3.

Successful cadets will be given instruction in the local "Sandhurst" on all subjects necessary for the knowledge of a great political or military leader. They will study courses in Chinese history, modern history, Chinese political thought, history of the Kuomintang, political economy, Chinese classics and literature, geography, etc.

Unlike the Military Academies of the West, the local "West Point" aims to train young men both with political and military knowledge which is essential for a successful leadership in China to-day.—Central Press.

TO RECAPTURE DOLONOR

Gen. Fang's Troops On The Move

MONEY REQUIRED TO CARRY ON CAMPAIGN

CANTON, July 5.

GENERAL Fang Chen Wu, field commander of the people's anti-Japanese forces in Charhar, reported to the military leaders here that his troops are preparing to launch an offensive on Dolonor, an important city in northern Charhar which was captured by the Japanese-Manchukuo forces about five weeks ago.

In his telegram to his two representatives here, General Fang stated that while his troops are pushing energetically against the enemy, they are badly in need of money, pointing out that the soldiers are recruited from the patriotic people on a volunteer basis. Therefore the two representatives are asked to approach supporters in Canton for funds and material assistance.

General Tsai Ting Kai, commanding officer of the 19th Route Army, has contributed $20,000 Mex. to the anti-Japanese forces, the money having been remitted at Hong Kong. The Association For Support and Relief to the Volunteers had already donated $30,000 to the same cause, while the people in Kwangsi are also raising money for the succor of the anti-Japanese forces.—Central Press.

"CONFERENCE SENTENCED TO DEATH"

IMPROVEMENT IN BRITISH TRADE

Unemployed Figures Decline

RESTRAINED BUT INCREASING CONFIDENCE

London, July 4.

THE PRESIDENT of the Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman, was detained at the World Economic Conference when the Board of Trade vote was considered in the House of Commons, to-day. In his absence, Dr. E. L. Burgin, Under-Secretary for the Department, said that the trade position and the prospects of the country could be summarised in the phrase, "General improvement is definite and marked in conditions of restrained but increasing confidence."

The tendency of international trade to decline, he said, had not yet been arrested, but the position of the export trade of the United Kingdom was certainly not unsatisfactory in the light of world trade as a whole.

Improvement, he said, had been widespread, and covered 90 out of 100 of industrial groups and 600 out of 700 of the whole of areas for which statistics were available. There was a notable improvement in building, cotton, wool, engineering, boots and shoes, motorcars and shipbuilding.

Increase in Employment.

"There was a further substantial improvement in employment during the month of May, this being the fourth successive monthly improvement. At the end of May 9,657,000 insured persons were in employment or 120,000 more than in the preceding month and 372,000 more than in January. This was the highest volume of employment among insured persons at any time since September 1930.

All British industry was healthier than for some time was healindustrial and commerical activity would respond very quickly to the succesaful results in the international field.

The total volume of world trade was continuing to shrink. Great Britain's share was maintained, but it was a somewhat melancholy satisfaction when they thought of the tremendous interest they had in the maintenance of the volume of total world trade.

Referring to trade agreements, Dr. Burgin said that their result had been to give help in the balance of trade and for the first five months of the present year that balance showed an improvement of £30,000,000 over last year.—British Wireless Service.

SETTLEMENT OF WHEAT PROBLEM

On Basis Of U.S. Proposals

COUNTRIES TO EXERCISE DOUBLE CONTROL

London, July 5.

Canada, Australia, Argentine and the United States have agreed to a settlement of the wheat problem on the basis of the American proposals. It is understood the plan will be submitted to European wheat producers who will undertake not to augment their acreage or production, while consumers will undertake to reduce tariffs against wheat when the price rises in consequence of restriction.

Canada, the United States, Argentine and Australia will exercise double control, namely over exports and internal stocks.

The agreement has not actually been signed, but Australia has signified her assent, and it is understood her signature will follow shortly.

The plan to which the countries have agreed to at present does not specify definite figures. These would be filled in if European countries and consumers give their assent.—Reuter

CUBAN SUGAR PROPOSALS

PRESENT TERMS TOO STRINGENT

London, July 5.

China has rejected the Cuban sugar restriction scheme. She has sent a memorandum to the Sugar Sub-Committee of the World Economic Conference stating that China is prepared to consider participation in alternative schemes.

The Chinese memorandum points out that the dwindling Chinese production will scarcely survive foreign competition unless methods of cultivation and separation are improved. While the proposal to prohibit the erection of new factories or an increase of production in existing factories will involve a greater sacrifice than is bearable by the Chinese industry.—Reuter.

"BUT A REPRIEVE IS POSSIBLE"

U.S. DELEGATION PUZZLED

HAS ROOSEVELT CHANGED HIS POLICY?

GOLD COUNTRIES INSIST ON MONETARY AGREEMENT

London, July 5.

"The Conference has been sentenced to death, but a repricve is possible," sums up the feeling this morning.

The announcement of the wheat agreement had a tonic effect, arousing a feeling of somewhat greater optimism, though gold countries especially continue to be most doubtful whether the fateful phone call from President Roosevelt, which is expected at 3 p.m., will bring a reprieve.

Apart from the gold countries, however, it seems there is a move by the majority of the delegations to back efforts to avoid adjournment.

Meanwhile, it is understood confusion has been caused among the U.S. Delegation members by the message from Roosevelt, which it is understood indicates that he has no lasting opposition to the gold standard, but is now raising the question over a method of a return to the gold standard.

The climax to the negotiations for the continuance of the World Economic Conference is expected at 3 p.m., when the U.S. Delegation are expecting a phone call from Pres. Roosevelt.

GOLD COUNTRIES' PESSIMISTIC OUTLOOK

The U.S. Delegates are puzzled by the communication as they declare it is possible to interpret it as a change in Roosevelt's policy. They, therefore, have cabled Washington for clarification, which they expect to receive in the 3 p.m. phone call.

The Americans are expected to issue a definite declaration late this afternoon.

Amid a welter of speculation Franco-Dutch circles firmly stand by their thesis that it is useless to expect Roosevelt to put up a monetary formula which will be acceptable to the gold bloc, and in reply to rumours that Roosevelt may advance proposals calculated to keep the Conference alive in the economic sphere, the French and Dutch reiterate the impossibility of an economic advance without a monetary agreement.—Reuter.

A COOLING-OFF PERIOD

London, July 5.

It is hoped in American quarters that the recess obtained at the World Economic Conference, will prove a "cooling off" period in which the Delegations will have a chance to forget President Roosevelt's stinging words.

Mr. William Cordell Hull explained yesterday evening that he had asked for a 24-hour recess in order to talk thinks over with both the British and American delegates with the hope that within the next two days the Conference stiuation can be resumed and an economic policy formulated on which work can proceed.

The Americans are known to desire further discussions on price-raising and other countries believe that President Roosevelt greatly desires the Conference to continue and therefore, that he will make a great effort to this end.

Yesterday morning's meeting of the Steering Committee and the evening meeting of the bureau were characterised by much strong criticism of the attitude of the United States from the highest quarters, but, out of courtesy to America, the request for an adjournment of the bureau was granted without taking a vote.—Reuter.

RECESS SECURED BY AMERICANS

London, July 5.

The following are the events leading up to the dramatic finish of the World Economic Conference.

Yesterday morning's meeting of the Bureau appointed a committee to draft the final resolution, composing the British Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, M. Bonnet, French Finance Minister, and the Dutch Premier, Dr. Colijn.

At 3 a.m., the committee had almost agreed to the resolution, noting the results obtained at the Conference and stating the reasons necessitating its adjournment.

While the discussion was proceeding, a messenger brought Mr. MacDonald a note from the delegation of the United Stated, asking for a postponement of the meeting of the Bureau fixed for 6 p.m., as they had an important communication to make.

Mr. Macdonald suspended the meeting hour with one of the American delegates and then told the Drafting Committee that the United States Secretary of State, Mr. William Cordell Hull, had found it impossible to reach President Roosevelt. Therefore the delegation was unable to decide regarding the adjournment of the Conference.

Mr. MacDonald, however decided that the Bureau should meet at 6 p.m. At the meeting, Mr. MacDonald, on behalf of the Steering Committee moved the adjournment of the Conference.

Mr. Hull protested and suggested a re-meeting to-morrow.

M. Bonnet, and Senor Guido Jung (Italy), suggested to-day, but yielded to Thursday.

They declared, however, that they are very positive that a solution must be found by then, and in their opinion, the best procedure was an adjournment of the Conference as fixed yesterday morning by the Bureau.—Reuter.

AVOIDING STIGMA ON ROOSEVELT

London, July 5.

The Bureau of the World Economic Conference has been adjourned till to-morrow.

Though it is generally thought that the Conference will end on Thursday it is not a foregone conclusion.

The Americans are doing their utmost to prolong its life in order to avoid the already voiced opinion that President Roosevelt has "torpedoed" the Conference.—Reuter.

SILVER COMMITTEE TO REPORT LATER

The meeting decided to pursue the conversations privately, and report when a satisfactory stage has been reached.—Reuter.

MR. HULL'S MEETING WITH MR. MACDONALD

London, July 5.

The situation created by the statement of the American policy regarding the temporary stabilisation of currencies, was discussed at length in World Economic Conference circles.

In delegation meetings and in private conversations, the advantages and disadvantages of postponing the proceedings, at least, in regard to the financial work of the Conference, were debated, and it was anticipated that some decision on this point might be reached

COMMUNICATIONS NOT COMPLETE

Roosevelt's Reply Eagerly Awaited

HULL KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH MACDONALD

London, July 5.

The exchange of communications between Pres. Roosevelt and the U.S. Delegation, the outcome of which conference members are eagerly awaiting, are not yet complete.

Although the delegation received Pres. Roosevelt's first communication during the night, in various quarters it is now reported that the delegation headquarter's situation is not sufficiently crystallised for a statement of policy to be issued.

The communications, which began when the delegation started its meeting at 10.15, are still progressing.

Meanwhile, it is understood that Mr. Hull is in touch with the various delegations, also with Mr. MacDonald.

The U.S. Delegation has indicated that no concrete statement will be forthcoming from them for several hours, as after the receipt of final instructions from Pres. Roosevelt discussions will be held between Americans and other delegation members before any proposal is submitted for to-morrow's bureau meeting.—Reuter.

"AIR CLEARING"

London, July 5.

Pres. Rooevelt's communication to the U.S. delegation is stated to be in the nature of clarification: It is not a direct stimulus to the Conference, but contains a summing up of the situation and an optimistic view for the continuation of the Conference.

"Air clearing" appears to be the view of the U.S. delegation following two and a half hours meeting which rose at 1.45 p.m. after reviewing the whole field in which the Americans feel the Conference might continue.

The United States delegation members, who are now communicating the results of their deliberations to other conference officials, are of the opinion that the atmosphere of the Conference is far more friendly than yesterday. Professor Moley was present at the whole of this morning's conference.—Reuter.

at the meeting of the Bureau of the Conference summoned by the President, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, yesterday evening. Before the Conference was called, the chief of the American delegation, Mr. William Cordell Hull had an hour's conversation with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald.

The meeting of the Bureau lasted for 40 minutes. It was announced afterwards that no decision had been reached and that the meeting would be resumed to-morrow morning.

It is understood that this course was taken at the instance of the American representatives who desired further opportunity of explaining President Roosevelt's statement. It was also felt that further consultations with the delegations not represented on the Bureau would take place before that body made any recommendation to the Conference as a whole.—British Wireless Service.

ROOSEVELT CONFIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 5.

President Roosevelt arrived at the White House last night, and has cabled fresh instructions to the United States delegation in London to exert every effort to keep the World Economic Conference going.

President Doosevelt's instructions were coded and dispatched through the United States Navy Department.

It is authoritatively stated that President Roosevelt has every confidence that the Conference will not break up and that the American delegation would be able to act to keep it in progress.

The text of the cable has not been disclosed, and it is stated that any news will have to come from London.—Reuter.

THE CONFERENCE DEADLOCK

Has Little Effect On Exchanges

GOLD CURRENCIES RECEIVE MOST ATTENTION

London, July 5.

The Conference deadlock continues to have little effect on the exchange market, where continental gold currencies are receiving most attention.

Continental rumours that sterling would be linked with the dollar caused a heavy offering of sterling and buying of gold currencies by continental operators.

Movement was eventually checked here by the official sale of French francs.

The downward trend in sterling was assisted by the continued continental sale of dollars.

Francs opened at 85.15 and appreciated to 84.93, but later went back 85.15.

Dollars weakened from an opening of 4.49½ to 4.51½.—Reuter.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE

SLIGHT DECLINE IN HEAVY TRADING

London, July 4.

VERY large business was again transacted on the London Stock Exchange in certain industrial specialities to-day, and although substantial gains were registered in many cases, values mostly closed under best.

German bonds remained weak.

War loan, 3½ per cent., closed at 98⅛.—British Wireless Service.

The Prince of Wales and Prince George were in golfing opposition at Sunningdale last month. The Prince of Wales was partnered by Douglas Fairbanks against Prince George and Archie Compston. The match was close all the way round, and after the sides had been square with nine holes played, Prince George and Compston won by three and two.

FOREIGN LOANS TO CHINA

Risky Investment At Present

ACCORDING TO LONDON MORNING POST

London, July 5.

COMMENTING on the cablegram received from the Southwest Political Council at Canton, referring to reports that Mr. T. V. Soong, Chinese Finance Minister is trying to negotiate loans abroad and declaring that any such loan will be "nationally repudiated," the Morning Post, while admitting that it does not know by what authority the Council speaks, states that the statement illustrates the present disunity in China and is a useful caution against granting credits to the Chinese Government at present.—Reuter.

THE LUANTUNG QUESTION

AGREEMENT SIGNED AT DAIREN

Tokyo, July 5.

A message from Dairen states that a Sino-Japanese Agreement regarding the details involved in the evacuation of the fighting zone has been signed. It refers, inter alia, to the distribution of Chinese troops assigned for patrol duty and other work, also for through traffic on the Peiping-Mukden Railway accompanying the withdrawal of Japanese troops.—Reuter.

EARLIER REPORT

PEIPING, July 5.

According to Chinese reports a hitch occured in the Dairen Conference to settle the Luantung question as a result from the Japanese demands that.

(1) The Japanese authorities be permitted to station a certain number of military inspectors in the Luantung district after their withdrawal to the Great Wall, and

(2) A Board consisting of Chinese, Japanese and Manchukuo representatives be set up for joint control of the Lutai-Shanghai section of the Peiping-Mukden Railway.

The Chinese delegates have referred the demands to Peiping which have been telegraphed to Nanking for instructions.

In the meantime the Chinese delegates have been ordered to postpone their return to Peiping.

The train service between Peiping and Tongshan was resumed to-day after a suspension of nearly two months.—Reuter.

Hammond And Dacre In Fine Form

EQUAL RECORD SET 34 YEARS AGO

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

London, July 4.

The feature of the week-end cricket programme was the fine performance of Wally Hammond and Dacre, who, in each scoring a century in both innings against Worcester equalled the record set up by the Forster brothers who did the same thing thirty-four years ago.

Several other players distinguished themselves by getting centuries and on the whole the standard of play was of a very high order.

MANY CENTURIES RECORDED

WORCESTER v. GLOUCESTER.

HAMMOND AND DACRE!

A record dating back to 1899 was equalled during the week-end when at Worcester C. C. Dacre, former New Zealand Test player, and Wally Hammond, hero of the English Test team, scored a century in each innings for Gloucester. This feat equals that of W. L. Foster (140 and 172 not out) and R. E. Foster (134 and 101 not out), the famous brothers. They established the record, also at Worcester, in 1899, against Hampshire.

In spite of these meritorious feats Gloucester had to be content with first innings points.

Gloucester made 541 in the first innings and Worcester replied with 448. In the second innings Gloucester declared at 270 for 1 and when Worcester had scored 71 for 4, stumps were drawn.

The scores were:—
Gloucester, 1st innings 541
Hammond, 122.
Dacre, 119.
Worcester, 1st innings 448
Walter, 114.
Gloucester, 2nd innings (for 1 wicket) 270
Hammond, 111 not out.
Dacre, 125 not out.
Worcester, 2nd innings (for 4 wickets) 71

WARWICK v. SOMERSET.

A TAME AFFAIR!

This game was played in Chilvers Coton and resulted in Warwickshire getting the points on the first innings.

Warwick batted first and to their total of 362 Somerset replied with 258. In the second innings Warwick declared at 160 for 3 but when Somerset had got together 83 without any loss, stumps were drawn.

The scores were:—
Warwick, 1st innings 362
Somerset, 1st innings 258
Warwick, 2nd innings (3 wickets, declared) 160
Somerset, 2nd innings (for 0 wickets) 83

M.C.C. v. CAMBRIDGE.

LIGHT BLUES BEATEN.

At Headquarters, Marylebone beat Cambridge by seven wickets.

Cambridge made 254 in their first knock and in reply to this, M.M.C. made 283. In their second spell the Light Blues hit up 236, but the M.C.C. had no difficulty in getting the required runs, losing only 3 wickets in the process.

The scores were:—
Cambridge, 1st innings 254
M.C.C., 1st innings 283
Cambridge, 2nd innings ... 236
M.C.C., 2nd innings (for 3 wickets) 208

The tourists had first use of the wickets and to their total of 305, Lancashire replied with 393, Hopwood getting 112. After the tourists had collected 240 for 5 in their second innings, stumps were drawn, the scores being:—

Lancashire, 1st innings 393
Hopwood, 112.
West Indies, 2nd innings (for 5 wickets) 240

In the second innings Notts declared at 202 for 6 and when Derby went in again they were all dismissed when 57 runs short of the Notts total. Worthington made 108 in fine style.

BRITISH GOLF TITLE

HAGEN LEADS IN FIRST ROUND

St. Andrews, July 5.

Hagen at present leads in the British Open Golf Championship. His first round score was 68.—Reuter.

NOLAN LEADS THE FIELD

London, July 4.

Playing superb golf Nolan broke the St. Andrew's course record with a faultless 67 to lead the 280 competitors in the final qualifying round of the British Open Golf Championship yesterday.

The American invaders all proved successful. Gene Sarazen, the holder, returned a card of 148—ten strokes behind Nolan.

Among the leading British players Archie Compston is up with the leaders, but Percy Alliss failed to qualify and Alfred Lacey tore up his card.

George Dunlap, the American who reached the semi-final of the British Amateur, failed to produce the form that gave him a first round card of 71, and Olin Dutra, the American Ryder Cup player, also failed to keep his place among the leaders.

Principal Cards.

The principal cards, as cabled by Reuter, are:

Nolan (Ireland) 71+67=138
Horton Smith (U.S.A.) 71+71=142
Archie Compston (Britain) 73+74=147
Joe Kirkwood (Australia) 73+74=147
Gene Sarazen (U.S.A.) 73+75=148.

Intense Heat.

Intense heat again prevailed during the final qualifying round and the fast condition of the turf caused sensations in the afternoon round.

Alfred Lacey, who lost 2 and 1 to Walter Hagen in the Ryder Cup contest, tore up his card to set a new precedent in the history of the championship. Such a thing had not been done before.

Record Broken.

Nolan, the Irish professional from Portmarnock, broke the old course record of 68, held jointly by Bobby Jones (U.S.A.) and George Duncan (Britain) with a faultless 67. With a 71 in the first round Nolan led the qualifying field with an aggregate score of 138.

Horton Smith, "the American Henry Cotton," who led in the first round with a 71, is second with an aggregate of 142.

Syd Fairweather, another Irishman, is third in the field with Billy Burke, the famous American and Kenyon (West Lancs.). All three had an aggregate of 146.

Leading Amateur.

Garnett (Addington) is the leading amateur with 147. He is in distinguished company with Archie Compston, the former British Ryder Cup player, Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick golfer, and Vickers.

Gene Sarazen, who lost his American title to Frank Goodman, followed up his 73 with a 75. He is going to be hard pressed to retain his British title.

All the leading American players qualified. The notable non-qualifiers were Percy Alliss, who beat Walter Runyan 2 and 1 in the Ryder Cup contest, and T. A. Bourn, who was beaten by the Hon. Michael Scott in the Final of the British Amateur Championship.—Reuter.

CORINTHIANS NOT TO PLAY IN F.A. CUP

TOO LIMITED EXEMPTION

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, June 15.

The Corinthians have decided not to play in the F.A. Cup competition next season.

As the premier amateur football club in the country, the Corinthians have for the last ten years been exempted from playing in the Cup until the third round. Recently the F.A. Council decided to give them exemption only until the first round proper.

In a letter to the F.A. the Corinthians point out that they cannot field a representative side until after Christmas, when the University players and members of the scholastic profession are available.

World's Football Championship.

An Italian football enthusiast tells me that twenty-six nations have already entered for the world's football championship, to be held next year in Rome. The twenty-six include all the leading Continental nations, the United States, several South American Republics, and such exotics as Cuba, Mexico and Haiti. England and Scotland are not participating.

I do not advocate a British entry. Feelings will probably run high before the tournament is over. At the same time, it would be foolish to ignore the danger to British Four matches were played yesterday in the premier division of the local Tennis League. Of these three were practically foregone conclusion, although C.R.C. "B.'s" defeat over S.C.A.A. was greater than expected. Recreio proved unable to check C.R.C.'s triumphant progress.

Craigengower were too strong for the University and South China's "A" team just managed to beat Hong Kong Cricket Club.

This provided something of a surprise as it was thought the Chinese would win much more comfortably.

The K.C.C.—I.R.C. match was postponed owing to the Indian's inability to turn out a team. F. D. Pereira is away and I. M. A. Razack was also unable to play.

BRITAIN IN FINAL ROUND

London, June 22.

By winning the Doubles yesterday against Czechoslovakia at Devonshire Park, Eastbourne, Great Britain entered the final round of the European Zone in the competition for the Davis Cup, in which the opposition will be Australia, who have just beaten Japan in Paris. This match must be played by July 17, and, as there is certain to a lot of interest in it, it will probably be played on the Centre Court at Wimbledon, as the championships will have been finished by then.

The winner of that match will then meet the United States in the Inter-Zone final in Paris on July 21 to 23, and the challenge round between the winners of that match and France will be played in Paris on July 28 to 30. This is the first time Great Britain has been able, in recent years, to play a match so far advanced in the competition at home. Two years ago the British team got through to the challenge round, but the final matches were all played in Paris. The success of the British team this year and their appearance here in a match in the final round should give a great stimulus to the game, and at Wimbledon when play begins on Monday next the performances of the various players, Australian, British, American, and French, will be followed with the closest interest, as they may shed some light on the prospects of each of the four national teams still involved.

PERRY AND HUGHES

The Doubles match was quickly over yesterday. Less than an hour sufficed to bring it to an end and the British pair, G. P. Hughes and F. J. Perry, who beat R. Menzel and F. Marsalek in three sets (6-3, 6-4, 6-4), had an easier task even than the score suggests. They soon found themselves in so secure a position that they could afford to take things easily. Yet the opposition had every excuse, for there was little in their favour. They had to play on grass of which they have experience and rain fell at intervals during the day. Fortunately, there is covering for the court at Eastbourne, and it had been sheltered since Saturday. Otherwise no play would have been likely yesterday. The only trouble that the British pair experienced was the speed and vigour of Menzel's service. He was also so accurate that he held his service games till well on in the third set, when he gave up his more severe and telling shots for a slower kind with spin. The only progress the British pair could make at first was by winning on Marsalek's service. Hughes served first and Great Britain gained definite lead at 3-1 on Marsalek's service. That enabled them to win the set at 6-3.

Perry and Hughes then adopted more aggressive tactics and were frequently at the net to smash any weak or short return, of which Marsalek made a few. Menzel played with great courage and had to cover his partner frequently. He did it nobly. Marsalek did not play as well as he can do and he often made a soft return which Perry or Hughes easily volleyed far out of reach for a winning point. Perry hit and smashed with great vigour and showed much confidence. There was no holding him in check. It was perhaps a pity that he and Hughes were not more severely tested. They could afford to make slips in the knowledge that the opportunity to recover was not far away.

MRS. MOODY LOSES

Two English girls, Miss Dorothy Round and Miss Mary Heeley, gained a splendid victory over the powerful American partnership, Mrs. Wills Moody and Miss E. Ryan, at Beckenham on Saturday.

The win, which was thoroughly deserved, was decisive—by 6-4, 6-4.

AUSTRALIA IN DAVIS CUP FINAL

Japan won the two remaining Singles in the Davis Cup-tie with Australia at the Stade Roland Garros, Auteuil, this afternoon, but the effort was made too late, for by winning the Doubles yesterday Australia has already passed into the final round of the European Zone to meet Great Britain. The manner in which J. Satoh under-estimated the capabilities of V. B. McGrath on Saturday proved costly for Japan, but it is doubtful whether he would have beaten J. Crawford in the last match today had the result of the tie depended on it. Japan put up a sturdy fight, however, and four of the matches went to five sets, Australia passing through by three victories to two.

In the first match this afternoon R. Nunoi beat McGrath by three sets to one (6-4, 6-4, 6-8, 7-5). Much of the play was good, each player hitting the ball hard and truly and coming up to the net to finish the rallies. There was an interesting contrast between an orthodox backhand and McGrath's two-handed grip. McGrath perhaps won more clean points on this hand when he found the right ball to hit, but he also made many mistakes. There was little to choose between the two players. Nunoi has a good range of strokes and he gets about the court. He was a little more aggressive than Mc

KOWLOON DISPENSARIES

MESSRS. A. S. WATSON'S REPLY AND SOME K.R.A. CORRESPONDENCE

DEAR SIR,

In reference to the article by your Special Correspondent appearing in the Kowloon Daily Supplement of your issue of the 4th. instant under the caption "A big need at Kowloon. Better service of Dispensaries."

In this connection it might be of interest and information to the residents of Kowloon to read letters that were addressed some time ago by us to the Kowloon Residents Association on the subject of dispensary service in Kowloon. Copies of these letters are sent herewith, and we consider they still constitute a sufficient reply to the criticisms and suggestions advanced by your Special Correspondent. We would add that the same service to the public of Kowloon is still maintained by the Manager of our Kowloon Dispensary. Indeed, it is exceptional for a night to pass, or a Sunday or Public Holiday, without the Manager being called to go and open the Kowloon Dispensary to dispense, not one, but occasionally several new and/or urgent prescriptions. Further, we confidently leave this matter to the members of the medical profession whom we know are quite satisfied with the service given; and should they or any one of them make any suggestion or recommendation it would receive our immediate attention. Also, this Company is always willing to receive and welcome suggestions from its customers.—Yours faithfully.

A.S. WATSON & CO., LIMITED.
J. A. Tarrant.

FROM THE KOWLOON RESIDENTS' ASSOCN.

KOWLOON DISPENSARY.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 11th. Instant in which you state that the lack of facilities for obtaining medicines or filling prescriptions on Sunday and Public Holidays in Kowloon was discussed at the last meeting of the General Committee of the Kowloon Resident Association, and enquiring whether some arrangement in that connection could be made at the Kowloon Dispensary.

Your Committee may not be aware of it, but that question was the subject of correspondence between us and the Kowloon Residents Association about five years ago, and for your Committee's information, we beg to forward you herewith copy of a letter dated October 20, 1925, which we addressed to the Hon: Secretary on this subject. That letter might now even be considered as a sufficient reply to your present enquiry. However we would add thereto the following for the information of your Committee.

The present manager of our Kowloon Dispensary is available at almost all times, in cases of an urgent nature. He is more or less on intimate terms with all the Kowloon doctors who know well his address, and also that they can communicate with him by telephone should occasion arise; and that if required to do so he would willingly proceed without delay to the Kowloon Dispensary to fill an urgent prescription or order. In this connection we would mention that our Kowloon Manager is authorised by Kowloon doctors to state that in their estimation Kowloon is better served even than Hong Kong in respect of the filling of urgent prescriptions. In considering the question of urgency a very important fact should be noted, namely that all doctors carry emergency drugs in their handbags.

Many years ago, the Kowloon Dispensary was opened for business on Sundays and Bank Holidays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the experience of several years was that practically the only orders that were received were for wines and spirits, with perhaps occasional requests for special medicinal draughts. Consequently it was decided to discontinue opening on Sundays and Holidays.

Extra Special Service.

A special extra service is maintained at the Hong Kong Dispensary on Saturdays from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.; on Sundays and Bank Holidays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7.30 p.m. for the purpose of filling prescriptions. In case of urgency we do not think it would take a person more than half an hour to go from Kowloon to the Hong Kong Dispensary, have his prescriptions filled and return to Kowloon.

In case of special urgency, the prescription could be telephoned, and the medicines would be ready waiting to be called for, as is now frequently done, and the medicines ordered delivered according to instructions.

The Manager and staff of the Kowloon Dispensary are required to do duty alternately with the Hong Kong Staff in performing this special extra service at the Hong Kong Dispensary.

From the foregoing it will be recognised that our Chemists as professional men, as is the case with doctors, are at call for the service of the public at all times and their leisure is correspondingly restricted; in such professional capacity they cannot be compared with an assistant in an office or departmental store, who may be called upon occasionally to do overtime work.

Further, the extra expenss required to maintain the special service of the Kowloon Dispensary as suggested, about $7500. per annum, we do not consider to be warranted, and we think the existing special service maintained at the Hong Kong Dispensary, supplemented by the willing service available at all times of the Manager at Kowloon should be sufficient for the present needs of our Kowloon clients. An examination of the list of members of the Kowloon Residents Association shows that about 80 of the 320 members are customers of the Kowloon Dispensary.—Yours faithfully.

A.S. WATSON & CO., LIMITED

URGENT MEDICINES SUPPLIED.

DEAR SIR,

In reply to your letter of the 15th. Instant, briefly acknowledged on the 17th. Instant. You state that your Committee make the request that our Kowloon Dispensary be opened for one hour in the morning and one hour in the evening on Sundays, and that the hours of business of the Dispensary be posted in the window.

In the first place, we would like to have been assured that these recommendations of your Committee are made in consequence of representations of the members of the Kowloon Residents Association, and whether few or many. We cannot think that it is the latter for the following reasons.

For many years, since the present manager has been in charge of the Kowloon Dispensary, he has personally arranged for urgent medicines to be supplied to customers and others when the Dispensary is closed, at all hours day and night on any day of the week, including Sundays. Many of our Kowloon customers have availed themselves of this privilege, and continue to do so. Also the doctors resident in Kowloon well know of this fact and greatly appreciate it. Occasionally customers from Hong Kong even, have gone over to Kowloon for urgent medicines after the Hong Kong Dispensary was closed at night, and have been supplied.

The hours of business of the Kowloon Dispensary on Mondays to Fridays, are 8.30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays, 8.30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and a notice to this effect will be posted in the window. If the Kowloon Dispensary is required to be opened regularly for one hour on Sundays in the morning and in the evening, it will not be always possible then to expect the present arrangements to be adhered to. The possibility of obtaining medicines on Sundays would then have to be confined to two hours only. In this regard, the local medical practitioners regard this recommendation of your Committee with much disfavour.

We are always eager and willing to oblige our customers and we greatly appreciate any suggestion that may be made whereby the service of our dispensaries may be improved and the convenience of our customers more particularly studied.

We would like to hear from your Committee again on this subject. We are,—Yours faithfully.

The Rev. A. D. Stewart who is leaving Hong Kong on July 16, is preaching a farewell sermon in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday at the 9 p.m. service, following which there will be a reception in the Church Hall to which all friends are welcome.

It is of interest to note that Mr. Stewart is the only clergyman now in the Colony who was present at the consecration service of St. Andrew's Church in 1906.

H.K. AND SOUTH CHINA DIOCESAN ASSN.

ANNUAL REUNION IN LONDON

(Special Air-Mail Service)

LONDON, June 22.

The Bishop of Wakefield presided at the annual reunion of the Victoria, Hong Kong, and South China Diocesan Association, held at Victory House, Leicester Square, on Wednesday.

The Rev. E. J. Barnett, chairman of the association committee, stated that since Bishop Hall's arrival in Hong Kong a number of progressive ideas had been introduced into the diocese. Bishop Hall hoped to consecrate before long Archdeacon Mok as Bishop of Canton, in which capacity he would be the native assistant to Bishop Hall.

The Dean of St. John's, Hong Kong (the Very Rev. A. Swann), said that the constitution of the Cathedral had been brought more into line with Church government at home, and the laity were given a high degree of responsibility in management through the creation of an electoral roll, representative of every department of work, from which the Cathedral Church Council was elected.

Grath, who had already contributed his share to the Australian victory by beating the Japanese first string.

Satoh beat Crawford by three sets to two (3-6, 6-3, 6-1, 1-6, 6-2) on the court on which Crawford recently became champion of France, and on which he himself could win few games from him in the semi-final round of the French Championship. To-day, however, he was opposed to a player who seemed to take little interest in the match and the sting of whose shots was neutralized by the damp court. At times Crawford was the master of his opponent, but more often he fell into those lapses so familiar to him. He looked tired, and had good reason to be so after his strenuous run of play lately. Crawford found the speed of Satoh's drive on the forehand too good for him in the middle of the match and when, in the last set, he made a determined effort, he found that his touch had deserted him. Satoh, whose tactics were extremely clever, deserved his victory.

WHITECOMBE'S FINE SCORE

R. A. Whitcombe again accomplished two remarkable rounds when the West of England section of the P.G.A. held their qualifying competition for the News of the World £1,040 tournament at Parkstone yesterday. He led the three qualifiers with the amazing total of 129 for 36 holes, made up of rounds of 63 and 66. On the previous day he had returns of 69, 63, and 66, while winning the West of England Open Championship, the last of those three rounds being in the replay with his brother E. R. Whitcombe. For the five consecutive rounds, therefore, he had an aggregate of 327, or 33 better than an average of 4's. The course measures only 5,327 yards, but this does not detract from the merit of Whitcombe's truly admirable performance.

In the first round yesterday whitcombe equalled his record of 63 with the following card:—

HOME: 3, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4, 3=33.
OUT: 4, 3, 3, 3, 4, 3, 3, 3, 4=30.
—63.

It seemed that there was no possible room for error, and yet, once, Whitcombe took three putts. That was at the 13th, which measures 238 yards. Whitcombe drove on to the green, played his approach putt to within a foot of the hole, and then, putting carelessly, failed to hole out with his next stroke. Whitcombe was one of the 22 men originally nominated in readiness for choosing the British Ryder Cup team, but he did not gain a place in the 10, which included two reserves. S. Easterbrook, one of the reserves, was engaged as Whitcombe's partner yesterday, and, with 69+74=143, he failed to gain one of the three West of England places. F. C. Jewell, who was round in 68 before luncheon and 74 afterwards, was second, and T. Barber, who recently took up an appointment at Torbay C.C. after long residence in the Midlands, gained the third place with a total of 141.

THIS YEAR'S BEST MATCH

The best match seen so far in this year's competition for the M.C.C. gold and silver prizes was played at Lord's yesterday, when R. Aird defeated Captain V. A. Cazalet by three sets to one (5-6, 6-5, 6-2, 6-3; 23 games to 16).

Aird won his match yesterday through better service and a greater ability to finish off the easy ball. In actual power of return there was nothing between them, and the winner made more mistakes at the easy ball than the loser. The match took a very curious course. For four games in the first set Cazalet could do nothing wrong, and his service, delivered along the edge of the penthouse, but without the reverse twist of an American service, puzzled Aird considerably, for it was delivered to a good length. Aird often misjudged it and got too close to the ball to make an effective stroke off it, with the result that he won but three strokes in four games. Then came a remarkable change, for Cazalet's service lost its length and sat up inviting a kill, giving Aird the attack whether he was on the service or hazard side. The result was that Aird won the next four games, losing three strokes only in the course of them, and the score was level at four games all. Cazalet won the ninth game, aided by a lucky shot off the edge of the last gallery wall, but Aird made the score five all. In the decisive game the score was level at 15 all when Aird laid down chases two and three and worse than six. Cazalet won both of these with good shots on the floor and then boasted for the dedans. Aird missed the volley and the first set went to Cazalet.

The second set was a clever exhibition of tennis with many well-fought rests. Games ran level up to four all and the ninth game went to Cazalet in spite of the fact Aird laid down and successfully defended chases two and better than two in the course of it. So far in the match 16 games had been played, not one of which had gone to deuce and vantage, but the next game proved an exception and Cazalet was once within a point of leading by two sets to none. He, however, missed an easy volley, when defending chase five and lost the game, so that the second set, like the first, depended on the 11th game. In this Aird, aided by a service which nicked dead, led at 40—0, but Cazalet drew up to 30—40 before Aird laid down chase four and successfully defended it, to square the match at one set all.

From this point Aird's heavier stroke began to tell its tale and Cazalet's return became less accurate and persistent. The latter won the first game, but took the next four with the loss of three strokes only and was soon leading by two sets to one. For a time the fourth set was closely fought, games being level at two all. The important fifth game, in which one of the best rests of the match was played, was won by Aird, who was lucky to serve a dead nick with the score at deuce, and he won the next game to love. A final effort by Cazalet, who won the seventh game with a shot to the grille, a hazard which persistently eluded his shots in the earlier part of the match, made the score 3—4, but the next two games went to Aird, whose American service was very effective throughout, and the match with them.

THE RENEGADE CRUISERS

Not Wanted by Canton Government

UNSUITABLE FOR BANDIT SUPPRESSION

(From Our Special Correspondent)

CANTON, July 5.

With the three renegade cruisers approaching South China waters to-day, the Southwest Political Council has made no definite decision to deal with these war craft apart from the formal statement of Vice-Admiral Chang Chi Ying, chief of the Canton naval flotilla, who said that he has nothing to do with these ships.

It is understood that the three Chinese men-of-war, Haichi, Haihsin and Shaoho, are attempting to throw in their lot either with the Fukien authorities or Canton, provided a sum of about $800,000 per month will be paid to them for maintenance expenses.

The captains of the three warships have turned against Admiral Shen Hung Lieh, commandant of the northeast squadron and concurrently Mayor of Tsingtao.

Canton is unable to support, and does not need, such big cruisers, your correspondent learned to-day. The three cruisers are too old and do not carry sufficiently heavy armaments for naval defence of South China, while their draft (about 15 feet) and tonnage (about 3,000 tons) are not suitable for suppression of river bandits.

The National Government, it is said, is anxious to induce the three warships to join the Chinese squadron at Shanghai under the direct control of the Ministry of Navy.

NEWS AND VIEWS

Chief Scout Dives—by Deputy.

Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, opening one of the largest camping-grounds in the world at Downe (Kent), opened the swimming-pool by taking the first plunge into water by deputy. "I am now about to open this swimming-bath by plunging in," announced the Chief Scout, "by deputy. And I make you my deputy," he said, shaking the hand of twelve-year-old Scout Stanley Golden, of the Sixth Bermondsey Troop. "Lord Baden-Powell, will you now open the bath by diving in?"

The First "Moving Pictures."

Although moving pictures are an invention of this generation, the phrase has attained its 150th birthday. It originated with John Wesley. He was travelling in Holland, and noticed—few things escaped his notice—that to most windows a looking-glass was placed on the sash, so that those sitting inside could see what was going on in the street. "There is," wrote Wesley on June 11, 1783, "something very pleasing in these 'moving pictures.' Are they found in no other country?" Wesley, of course, did not live to see a real movie. If he had, one is sure that he would not have been long before exploiting it in the interests of religion.

"Rethinking Missions."

There was disappointment that Dr. Ernest Hocking, the chairman of the American Laymen's Commission, which produced "Rethinking Missions," the report on foreign missions which has raised so much controversy in the United States, was delayed and was not in time to open the discussion on the report. The feeling of many missionary leaders here about the report is that the main questions which it challenges the American mission boards to "rethink" have already been faced by the British boards, and that revised policies are already being worked out.

Silver Birches to Aid Motorists.

A novel departure in afforestation is being initiated on a new by-pass road near Oxford.

Silver birch trees are being planted at the corners of every side turning so that at night their silvery white trunks will reflect the headlights of oncoming cars.

Open spaces are being planted with shade trees for future picnickers. The roadside hedges will eventually hide the useful, but ugly, wooden fence.

FINANCIAL NOTES FROM LONDON

America and Silver: Callender Cable's Contracts: Businessman on Recovery: G.E.C.'s Profits Maintained: Silver and The East, Tokyo Electric's Earnings

(Special Air-Mail Service)

SILVER'S FUTURE

LONDON, June 22.

While it has been rumoured for some time that the American debt payment might be liquidated in part by a transfer of silver, the actual announcement evoked considerable interest in the bullion market yesterday.

The powers which were conferred on the President to accept a payment in silver were included in the Farm Relief Act, and were framed specifically for this contingency of war debt payments, since they run for a period of six months only from the passing of the Act, which was May 12. Unless the powers are extended there may be no other occasion on which a payment in silver can be made.

The possibility of an indefinite number of such transfer with its stimulating effect on silver may thus be ruled out, though the issue of silver certificates and the coinage of silver in America in pursuance of the President's powers, was doubtless intended to encourage the greater use of the metal.

The reasons advanced yesterday for the strength of silver producers' shares and the rise in the price of silver, may have been based erroneously on the belief that a new era had opened for silver. Actually, the silver will be transferred from the Indian Government's silver reserve, where it has been held, to the U.S.A. to increase the supply of silver coinage in America. As the Indian Government will not replace the silver which it has sold, no benefit accrues to the silver mines or those undertakings which produce silver as a by-product.

A BETTER OUTLOOK!

At yesterday's meeting of Callender's Cable and Construction Co., Sir Fortescue Flannery, the chairman, in elaborating the remarks of the directors in the annual report, claimed for the company a leading position as pioneers in electrical development. He explained that the special reserve fund of £200,000 established to meet contingencies in experimental work had been more than sufficient to cover the immediate cost of renewals and replacements. The drop of £93,000 in expenditure on uncompleted contracts, he said, did not indicate a falling off in work, but was due to the fact that in connection with large contracts for overhead work there happened to be less uncompleted work than at the end of the previous year.

Sir Tom Callendar, the managing director, who reviewed the progress of the company's business described the outlook as better and more assured than it was a year ago. More orders are being placed, and they are orders of a welcome kind, since they tend to bring in other cables in the future. Prices, however, are "wretchedly low."

CAUTION AND ENTERPRISE

The blend of caution and enterprise which have helped to build up the greatness of J. & P. Coats, the famous cotton thread combine, was admirably typified in the chairman's speech at the annual meeting yesterday. Referring to reports of visible improvement in business, Mr. J. O. M. Clark said that the company's own figures for the present year did not bear out the suggestion that trade had entered upon an ascending curve.

Recovery, in his opinion, is certain to be slow, and there are sure to be considerable fluctuations. "These factors," he added, "lie outside the ambit of our control. The most that we can achieve is to meet as efficiently as we may each emergency as it arises and constantly to endeavour to better the organisation of the company. By this means alone can we hope to secure that when prosperity returns we shall be in the best possible position to avail ourselves fully of our opportunities." This is sound industrial philosophy, which is likely to stand the company in better stead than the over-reliance upon Government assistance which has become so deeply ingrained in certain sections of industry.

G.E.C.'S DIVIDEND

In spite of difficulties in the export trade, the General Electric Co. succeeded in practically maintaining its profits last year. Preliminary figures issued last night show that the profit amounted to £1,012,739, compared with £1,057,130 in the previous year. The directors have apparently decided to continue the conservative policy adopted last year, for although the net earnings are equivalent to roughly 16 p.c. on the Ordinary shares the dividend is maintained at 8 p.c. for the year.

A year ago, £130,000 was added to the reserves in view of the uncertain outlook and presumably a further substantial transfer has been made on this occasion. The annual meeting will be held on June 28.

BOOSTING SILVER

The Executive Committee of the Federation of British Industries passed yesterday the following resolution, which has been forwarded to the Government.

The continued depreciation in the value of silver, which has been for centuries and is still extensively used as a means of storing wealth in India, China, and other parts of the Far East, has played such an important part in reducing the demand for the products of manufacturing industry in those markets that, in the opinion of this committee, his Majesty's Government should be strongly urged, at the forthcoming World Economic Conference, to give every encouragment to any practicable proposals for raising the value in relation to gold, and promoting the stabilization of silver.

NO DIVIDEND

According to telegraphic advices received from Japan by Messrs. Lazard Brothers & Co., agents for the bondholders, the receipts of the Tokyo Electric Light Company for the half-year ended May 31 amounted to 59,700,000 yen, compared with 58,200,000 in the previous half-year. At the same time general expenses were reduced by 2,300,000 yen. Owing, however, to the depreciation of the yen the service of the external debt and the provision for depreciation absorbed larger amounts, the increase in the cost of these two items during the last half-year, compared with the six months ended November 30, being 2,120,000 yen and 6,125,000 yen respectively. Hence the company was left with a net revenue of only 349,317 yen, against 4,812,894 yen for the preceding six Asia Lands, Limited, has received the following report from their New York correspondents, E. A. Pierce & Co. The President's statement to the Economic Conference that it would be time to talk of currency stabilisation when the nations balanced their budgets, added fuel to speculative ambitions. Railroad equipment issues and oils were the leaders, while the bond market also showed pronounced strength. Winnipeg private crop estimates are very bullish, showing the smallest yield since 1896, thereby amply confirming everything the trade anticipated.

The President's rejection of the the Gold Standard Note was a factor helping all commodities. Cotton: There was a broad demand early in the day, encouraged by strength in securities, and gains on optimistic trade reports and general business advances. This attracted a decided increase in realising, which continued more or less for the balance of the day. Late selling was attributed to the statement appearing on the ticker to the effect that some scepticism is felt by officials regarding the success of the acreage reduction planned.

We believe that purchase in easy spots will prove profitable.
